NEW QUESTION # 56

Cloud Kicks (CK) is partnering with a used shoe store and second-hand bicycle emporium. CK has an automated business process it wants to run once a week to count the number of open cases related to an Account. Which flow should a Platform Administrator recommend automating within Flow Builder for this business process?

- A. Autolaunched flow
- B. Scheduled flow
- C. Record triggered flow
- D. Automation event triggered flow

Answer: B

Explanation:

For any business process that needs to run at a specific time interval (in this case, "once a week"), a Scheduled flow is the standard tool. A scheduled flow allows the Platform Administrator to define a frequency (Daily, Weekly, or Once) and a start time<sup>57</sup>. The flow can then query all relevant Account records and perform the logic of counting open cases and updating the parent record autonomously<sup>58</sup>. Record-triggered flows (Option B) are inappropriate here because the count needs to happen on a schedule rather than being triggered by an individual record edit<sup>59</sup>. Autolaunched flows (Option C) must be called by another process, such as a button or Apex, and do not have their own timing mechanism<sup>60</sup>. "Automation event triggered flow" (Option D) is not a standard type of flow used for recurring batch processing
