Nutanix Certified Associate v6.10 Sample Questions (Q44-Q49):

NEW QUESTION # 44

Which storage container option reduces the available storage to other containers?

- A. Reserved Capacity
- B. Capacity Deduplication
- C. Advertised Capacity
- D. Erasure Coding

Answer: A

Explanation:

The Reserved Capacity option in a storage container explicitly reserves a portion of cluster storage for that container. This reservation reduces the amount of storage available for other containers. Reserved Capacity ensures that specific workloads have guaranteed storage resources, preventing resource contention or overcommitment.

Other options:

* Advertised Capacity: Defines the storage limit displayed to users but does not reserve storage.

* Erasure Coding: Optimizes storage efficiency but does not reduce available capacity.

* Capacity Deduplication: Reduces space consumption by eliminating duplicate data but does not affect other containers' storage.

NEW QUESTION # 48

An administrator is building a new Windows VM on a Nutanix AHV cluster. However, when the administrator tries to install the OS, no disks are listed as available.

What does the administrator need to do to resolve the issue?

- A. Mount and install the Nutanix Guest Tools.
- B. Enable Turbo Mode on the VM.
- C. Add a second disk to the VM.
- D. Mount and install the VirtIO drivers.

Answer: D

Explanation:

The correct answer is C. Mount and install the VirtIO drivers.

When installing Windows OS on a Nutanix AHV VM, the default virtual disk controller uses the VirtIO interface, which is not natively supported by Windows installation media. As a result, during the OS installation, the virtual disk will not appear unless the VirtIO drivers are manually provided.

Required Steps:

- * Attach the VirtIO ISO to the VM.
- * During the Windows installation, click "Load Driver".
- * Browse to the mounted VirtIO ISO and select the appropriate storage driver.
- * Once loaded, the installer will detect the virtual disk.

Clarifications:

- * A (Add a second disk): Irrelevant; the issue is driver recognition, not disk quantity.
- * B (Enable Turbo Mode): Related to performance, not disk detection.
- * D (Install Nutanix Guest Tools): Done after OS installation, not before or during.

Prism UI Navigation Path:

VM > Edit > CD-ROM > Mount ISO # Select VirtIO ISO

Official Reference:

- * Nutanix KB #5967 - AHV: Windows Installation on VirtIO
- * Excerpt: "If the disk is not detected during Windows installation, the VirtIO ISO must be mounted and the appropriate storage controller driver manually installed."
