Salesforce Certified Omnistudio Consultant Sample Questions (Q106-Q111):

NEW QUESTION # 106

A consultant needs to design an OmniScript to capture the following information:

- * Select one payment method from a list of options
- * Enter the address information with autocomplete
- * Enter a phone number

Which OmniScript elements should be used to capture this information?

- A. Multi-Select, Address, and Telephone
- B. Select, TypeAhead, and Number

- C. Radio, TypeAhead, and Telephone
- D. Checkbox, Geolocation, and Number

Answer: C

Explanation:

The correct OmniScript elements to capture the information are Select, TypeAhead, and Number. Select allows the user to choose one option from a list of values, TypeAhead provides autocomplete suggestions for address fields, and Number validates that the input is a numeric value. Radio, Multi-Select, and Checkbox are not suitable for single selection scenarios. Geolocation is not an OmniScript element, and Telephone is not a valid data type for phone numbers.

NEW QUESTION # 107

A company uses Expression Sets to determine product pricing. Due to the company's pricing schedules, there is always more than one Expression Set active at one time for a given date.

In this scenario, how will the calculation engine select which Expression Set to run?

- A. Sequence
- B. Date created
- C. Date modified
- D. Rank

Answer: D

Explanation:

* Rank (A) - The Expression Set with the highest rank is selected by the Calculation Engine when multiple active Expression Sets exist for the same date.

* This ensures that the most relevant pricing rule is applied based on the company's prioritization strategy.

* B. Date modified - The modification date does not determine priority for execution.

* C. Date created - The system does not use the creation date to prioritize which Expression Set to execute.

* D. Sequence - Sequence applies within an Expression Set but does not control selection between multiple active Expression Sets.

NEW QUESTION # 108

A business has been experiencing a downturn in customer satisfaction due to billing Issues. The business learns that when customers are allowed to schedule an inquiry call with an agent, customer satisfaction improves.

For this reason, the business decides to create an OmniScript that asks the customer to rate their customer satisfaction using a 1-5 rating scale. If the customer satisfaction is less than 2, it should allow the customer to request a call back on a certain date and then create a case that includes a list of bills from an external system the last 5 months in the case description.

In what order should the consultant design the elements of the OmniScript to meet these requirements?

- A. HTTP Action, DataRaptor Post Action, Date Input, Radio Input
- B. HTTP Action, Radio Input, Date Input, DataRaptor Post Action
- C. Date Input, Radio Input, HTTP Action, DataRaptor Post Action
- D. Radio Input, Date Input, HTTP Action, DataRaptor Post Action

Answer: D

Explanation:

The order that the consultant should design the elements of the OmniScript to meet these requirements is:

Radio Input, Date Input, HTTP Action, DataRaptor Post Action. A Radio Input element can display a list of options for the user to choose from, such as customer satisfaction rating. A Radio Input element allows only one option to be selected at a time, and can also have icons for each option. A Date Input element can display a field for the user to enter a date value, such as call back date. A Date Input element can also have validation and formatting options, such as minimum and maximum dates, calendar picker, etc. An HTTP Action element can invoke a REST or SOAP service to retrieve data from an external system, such as a list of bills from the last 5 months. An HTTP Action element can store the response data in a JSON object for further processing. A DataRaptor Post Action element can write data to a Salesforce object or invoke a Salesforce API, such as creating a case with the list of bills in the case description.

NEW QUESTION # 109

A company is beginning their first project using Calculation Procedures & Matrices. The developers on the team are concerned about learning the new tool and how they will test their calculation procedures. The consultant recommends that they use the built-in simulator.

In this scenario, what benefit should the consultant highlight to the developer team?

- A. It aggregates data elements that have been calculated separately.
- B. It generates sample input and output JSON that can be easily used to build DataRaptors.
- C. It allows developers to create what-if calculations.
- D. It verifies data types in the algebraic calculations of the calculation procedure.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 110

A solution architect is working on a digital transformation project for a client. The client has complex business requirements that need to be implemented using Omnistudio tools. The solution architect needs to decide which Omnistudio tool to use.

Which Omnistudio tool should the solution architect use to automate the client's business processes and create guided interactions using data from the Salesforce org and external sources?

- A. Integration procedures
- B. Omniscripts
- C. Flexcards
- D. Expression Sets

Answer: B

Explanation:

* OmniScripts (D) are designed to automate complex business processes and guide users through interactions using both Salesforce and external data sources.

* They can fetch data dynamically, apply business logic, and execute actions such as record updates, API calls, or guided user inputs.

* OmniScripts integrate seamlessly with DataRaptors, Integration Procedures, and FlexCards to provide a complete business solution.

* A. Integration Procedures - These are used for server-side processing and API calls, but they do not provide user interaction like OmniScripts.

* B. FlexCards - These display data but do not automate guided interactions.

* C. Expression Sets - These are used for calculations and business rules, but they do not provide guided interactions.
