NEW QUESTION # 59

You are performing a Brownfield migration for a customer with live transactions in their SAP Ariba Production environment. The customer plans to introduce new required fields for contract workspaces that are associated with flex master data templates and enumeration lists. Based on the correct Brownfield process, what is the correct sequence of activities to avoid system errors or user disruption?

- A.
- B.
- C.
- D.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 60

A standard field is not available in reporting. A Greenfield customer needs to be able to report on the data captured in that standard field. How can this be achieved?

- A. Under Field Configurations, search for the field in the appropriate class, mark the field reportable, save and publish.
- B. Create a custom field that can be marked reportable, default the custom field to the standard field value, publish, and then pull the field into reporting.
- C. All standard fields are reportable by default.
- D. The system makes all fields reportable after a system refresh.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Some standard fields in SAP Ariba are not reportable by design and cannot be made reportable through configuration changes. The recommended workaround is to create a custom field that is marked as reportable, then set its default value to the standard field's value using an expression. Once published, this custom field can be included in reports, effectively surfacing the data previously inaccessible for reporting. System refreshes do not convert non-reportable standard fields to reportable. Marking the original standard field as reportable is not possible if the option is disabled by design.

NEW QUESTION # 61

During a Bluefield migration, you discover missing flex master data templates. What do you do?

- A. Rebuild them manually in production
- B. Defer to post-go-live
- C. Ignore them
- D. Use reporting workaround

Answer: A

Explanation:

In a Bluefield deployment scenario, SAP Ariba requires that all Flex Master Data (FMD) templates and their associated data be present in the Production environment before migrating related configuration elements. If you find missing FMD templates during migration, the recommended approach is to manually recreate the missing templates in Production and load the relevant data. This is essential to maintain integrity because many custom fields depend on these templates, and missing templates can cause migration failures or broken references. Deferring or ignoring the issue risks operational disruptions and data inconsistencies. Reporting workarounds do not address template dependencies and therefore are ineffective. This aligns with SAP's guidance on master data migration within Bluefield scenarios to ensure successful, error-free deployments.

NEW QUESTION # 62

You have defined a custom field to have a default value based on another field. You have verified that the defaulting happens correctly the first time. However, when the dependent field change value, your custom field does not change. What scenarios could cause this? Note: There are 3 correct answers to this question.

- A. The defaulting Expression sets a value that violates the custom field Validity Condition
- B. The parameter Application.Base.RecomputeValueOnFieldChange is not enabled
- C. Your dependent field does not have the property Refresh screen on value change enabled
- D. The custom field has the property Lock Initial value enabled, which prohibits a field to be changed once it's set
- E. Your custom field has the property Respect User Value enabled, and the user has manually entered another value into the field

Answer: C,D,E

NEW QUESTION # 63

When you have created a new custom field and marked it as reportable, saved and published your changes, the field does not show up in your reports. How can you resolve the issue?

- A. You need to wait 2 hours for the schema to refresh. Any change to the object model will be automatically synchronized to SAP Ariba Analytics on regular intervals
- B. You forgot to run the task Retrieve flexible fields metadata for reporting under Manage > Administration > Reporting Manager > Flex Field Reporting
- C. You did not assign the custom field to the appropriate report category. Ensure that the field is linked to the correct category for it to appear in reports.
- D. You created the custom field in a different module. Custom fields must be created in the same module where the reports are generated to show up correctly.

Answer: B
