Salesforce Certified Platform App Builder Sample Questions (Q115-Q120):

NEW QUESTION # 115

An organization wants to create a field to store manager data on the user object. The manager field is a reference to another user record.

What type of relationship should be used?

- A. Master-Detail
- B. Lookup
- C. Many-to-many
- D. Hierarchical

Answer: D

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

Hierarchical relationship: This type of relationship is a special lookup relationship available only for the user object. It allows users to use a lookup field to associate one user with another that does not directly or indirectly refer to itself. For example, you can create a custom hierarchical relationship field to store each user's direct manager.

NEW QUESTION # 116

Ursa Major Solar 's service department gets requests for several types of services, such as installation, repair, and maintenance. Service Managers need to be able to tell when maintenance was last done on an asset to help determine if they are meeting contract agreements, but the last Maintenance date can be difficult to determine when there are many work orders related to the asset. They think it would be helpful to have a field auto-populated on the Asset record when a maintenance work order gets close. Which tool should an app builder recommend to help meet this requirement?

- A. Einstein Next Best Action
- B. Flow
- C. Apex Trigger
- D. Roll-up Summary

Answer: B

Explanation:

Think in terms of supportability first. Choose A. Flow. The requirement in the stem is: Ursa Major Solar 's service department gets requests for several types of services, such as installation, repair, and maintenance.

Service Managers need to be able to tell when maintenance was last done on an asset to. The selected option addresses that requirement at the point where Salesforce actually evaluates the behavior.

The underlying concept is guided flow. Screen flows guide a user through prompts, collect input, branch through decisions, and update records as part of a controlled interaction. That is why this answer is more defensible than a workaround. It can be reviewed in Setup, included in the correct deployment path, and tested by impersonating or logging in as a representative user where appropriate.

The remaining answers do not control the same Salesforce behavior. B (Einstein Next Best Action) does not fit cleanly; it solves a symptom of the problem rather than the Salesforce mechanism that owns the result. C (Roll-up Summary) is only a partial match because it does not provide the same direct administrative control as the selected option. D (Apex Trigger) misses the mark because Apex may solve advanced gaps, but it is not the first choice when a native declarative feature fully handles the requirement. The result is a cleaner app design because the behavior is handled by the feature Salesforce built for that purpose.

NEW QUESTION # 117

Which three options are available when activating a Lightning page from the Lightning App Builder?

Choose 3 answers

- A. Assign the page to a combination of apps and permission sets.
- B. Make the page the default homepage for specific apps.
- C. Make the page the org default.
- D. Assign the page to a combination of apps and profiles.
- E. Make the page the default homepage for specific roles.

Answer: B,C,D

NEW QUESTION # 118

At AW Computing, the Candidate object has a checkbox field for Previous Experience and a number field for Years of Previous Experience. The recruiting team wants the number field to display only if the Previous Experience field is checked. Which functionality should the app builder use to meet this requirement?

- A. Use a Visualforce component on the candidate page layout to conditionally display the fields.
- B. Create a dependency between the Previous Experience and Years of Previous Experience fields.
- C. Create two different page layouts and a process to change the layout if Previous Experience is checked.
- D. Use Dynamic Forms to display the Years of Previous Experience field if Previous Experience is checked.

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

The useful clue is the business action being requested. Lightning App Builder controls page composition, component visibility, activation, assignments, and specialized surfaces such as record pages, home pages, and utility bars. The best answer is A. Create two different page layouts and a process to change the layout if Previous Experience is checked.; C. Use Dynamic Forms to display the Years of Previous Experience field if Previous Experience is checked.

A clean Platform App Builder answer should satisfy the complete scenario, not merely one phrase in it. This item requires the app builder to choose the configuration that produces the requested behavior in normal Salesforce use. The selected answer fits that requirement because it works with the platform model instead of fighting it.

None of the other options gives the same administrative control. B (Create a dependency between the Previous Experience and Years of Previous Experience fields.) is only a partial match because it does not provide the same direct administrative control as the selected option. D (Use a Visualforce component on the candidate page layout to conditionally display the fields.) is not enough: Page layouts affect presentation; they do not grant the underlying object or field capability by themselves. This is the stronger design because it respects security, data quality, user experience, and lifecycle management at the same time.

NEW QUESTION # 119

Universal Containers wants to create a report to show job applications with or without resumes. What considerations should the app builder be aware of when creating the custom report type?

- A. A primary object selection is locked once the custom report type has been saved.
- B. When a custom or external object is deleted the report type and reports remain but cause an error when the report is run.
- C. Once the report type has been deployed it is unable to be deleted.
- D. An app builder is unable to create custom report types for objects they do not have permissions for.

Answer: A

Explanation:

The primary object selection is locked once the custom report type has been saved. This means that the app builder cannot change the primary object later. The other options are not true.
