EPA and OSHA define regulated medical waste (RMW) as waste that is saturated or dripping with blood or other potentially infectious materials (OPIM).

B). Blood-saturated gauze (Correct): Meets the definition of RMW.

A). Fluorescent bulbs: Considered hazardous universal waste (mercury), not RMW.

C). Urine-soaked pads: Not classified as RMW unless visibly contaminated with blood.

D). Home-use sharps: Not regulated by EPA as medical waste from households.

NEW QUESTION # 78

In an outpatient clinic classified as a business occupancy, The Joint Commission requires fire drills to be held how often?

- A. every 6 months
- B. once a month
- C. every 3 months
- D. every 12 months

Answer: D

Explanation:

The Joint Commission (TJC) aligns with NFPA 101: Life Safety Code. For business occupancies (such as outpatient clinics), the requirement is that fire drills be conducted annually (every 12 months).

Quarterly (every 3 months) drills are required for healthcare occupancies (hospitals, nursing care).

Outpatient business occupancies are less stringent.

NEW QUESTION # 79

The following information is available:

□ Which building has the best overall building condition?

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2
- D. 3

Answer: C

Explanation:

To evaluate overall building condition, the Facility Condition Index (FCI) is commonly used. $FCI = \text{Deferred Maintenance} \div \text{Current Replacement Value}$. A lower FCI indicates better building condition (less deferred maintenance relative to value).

* Building 1: $1,200,000 \div 25,000,000 = 0.048$

* Building 2: $200,000 \div 2,500,000 = 0.080$

* Building 3: $25,000 \div 600,000 = 0.0417$

* Building 4: $900,000 \div 10,000,000 = 0.090$

Building 3 has the lowest FCI (0.0417), which means it has the least deferred maintenance compared to its value and therefore is in the best overall condition.

Incorrect Options:

* Building 1 (0.048) - Good, but not the lowest.

* Building 2 (0.080) - Higher FCI means poorer condition.

* Building 4 (0.090) - Highest FCI of the group.

- A. major breakdown
- B. death or injury
- C. recall
- D. inappropriate application of the device

Explanation:

The Safe Medical Device Act (SMDA) of 1990 requires healthcare facilities to report to the FDA and the manufacturer when a device is suspected of causing or contributing to death or serious injury.

C). death or injury (Correct): Specifically mandated under SMDA.

A). inappropriate application: A usage issue, not a reporting trigger.

B). recall: Issued by the FDA/manufacturer, not the facility's reporting obligation.

D). major breakdown: Requires service but not mandatory reporting.

NEW QUESTION # 81

Child abduction system evaluation is best accomplished by

- A. the safety committee.
- B. administration.
- C. security professionals.
- D. risk managers.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The evaluation of child abduction systems—such as infant security alarms, electronic tagging devices, and controlled access systems—falls under the expertise of security professionals. These professionals are trained to test, monitor, and validate the effectiveness of electronic security and surveillance systems. Their role ensures that abduction-prevention technology is properly installed, maintained, and capable of responding effectively in an emergency.

* Correct Answer (B. security professionals): According to the CHFM exam content outline under Compliance, healthcare facilities are expected to implement and evaluate security measures that meet regulatory and safety requirements. The responsibility for the technical and functional evaluation of systems like infant abduction alarms lies with trained security staff.

* Incorrect Options:

* A. administration: While hospital administration sets policy and allocates resources, they are not directly responsible for evaluating technical systems.

* C. the safety committee: Safety committees review incidents and provide oversight but do not conduct system-level technical evaluations.

* D. risk managers: Risk managers focus on identifying potential liability and compliance issues but rely on security professionals to conduct the detailed evaluation of child abduction systems.

Relevance to CHFM Compliance Domain:

Within the Compliance domain of the CHFM exam, managers must demonstrate knowledge of regulatory standards for security in healthcare facilities, particularly in sensitive areas such as maternity wards.

Evaluation of abduction-prevention systems aligns directly with security operations, which are managed and verified by trained security professionals to ensure compliance with The Joint Commission (TJC), CMS, and industry best practices.
