Archer Certified Administrator-Expert Sample Questions (Q36-Q41):

NEW QUESTION # 36

How does the pre-built content of the Question Library vary from one organization to another?

- A. The pre-built Question Library content varies based on the support model selected.
- B. The pre-built Question Library content depends on the deployment option used.
- C. The pre-built Question Library content depends on the use cases licensed.
- D. The pre-built Question Library content is the same for any number of use cases licensed.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The Archer Question Library is a centralized repository of questions used to build questionnaires.

According to the Questionnaires and Assessment Maintenance curriculum, the "Out of the Box" (OOTB) content provided by Archer is modular. When an organization licenses a specific Use Case (e.g., IT Security Risk Management, Third Party Governance, or Business Continuity), the relevant question sets for those domains are imported into the library.

For example, an organization that only licenses Third Party Governance will have a Question Library populated with vendor-related assessments (like SIG or ISO-based questions), but they will not see Business Continuity-specific questions unless that use case is also licensed. This ensures that the platform remains uncluttered and relevant to the specific business needs of the organization. The deployment option (On- Premise vs. SaaS) and the support model have no impact on the actual metadata content of the library; it is strictly driven by the licensed functional modules.

NEW QUESTION # 37

Which of the following Advanced Workflow nodes allows you to set a timer after which the record is automatically rerouted?

- A. Wait for Content Update node
- B. User Action node
- C. Send Notification node
- D. Update Content node

Answer: A

Explanation:

In the Advanced Workflow Beyond the Basics curriculum, the Wait for Content Update node is identified as the primary tool for time-based automation. While its name suggests it is waiting for a user to change a field, its secondary function is to act as a SLA (Service Level Agreement) timer .

Within the node configuration, an administrator can define an "Escalation" or "Timeout" path. You can set a specific duration (e.g., 5 days). If the expected content update does not occur within that timeframe, the node "times out" and automatically reroutes the record down a secondary transition path-typically to a manager's review or an automated notification. While a User Action node (Option B) can have a "due date," it does not automatically move the record to a different path solely based on time without the Wait for Content Update node logic. Update Content (Option D) and Send Notification (Option A) nodes are instantaneous actions and do not possess the ability to "pause" and monitor for duration.

NEW QUESTION # 38

Select the service which must always run for Archer to properly function.

- A. Job Engine service
- B. Configuration service
- C. LDAP Synchronization service
- D. Queuing service

Answer: B

Explanation:

As detailed in the Archer Installation and Troubleshooting guide, the Archer Configuration Service is the foundational "heartbeat" of the platform. While the Job Engine (Option D) and Queuing Service (Option B) are essential for processing background tasks, the system cannot initialize or connect to the instance database without the Configuration Service.

The Configuration Service is responsible for retrieving settings from the Archer Control Panel (ACP) and providing them to the web server and other services. If this service is stopped, the Archer web interface will fail to load, and administrators will be unable to make any changes to the instance through the ACP. LDAP Synchronization (Option C) is a scheduled task and does not need to be running constantly for the platform to remain operational. Therefore, from an architectural standpoint, the Configuration Service is the mandatory prerequisite for all other platform functions.

NEW QUESTION # 39

Which service must be installed and enabled on all Web and Services Servers?

- A. Archer Core Service
- B. Archer Configuration Service
- C. Archer Queuing Service
- D. Archer Workflow Service

Answer: B

Explanation:

In a distributed (multi-host) Archer environment, the Archer Configuration Service is the most critical underlying component that must exist on every server in the web and services tiers. As taught in Archer Administration II , this service is responsible for "registering" the server with the Archer Control Panel (ACP) .

The Configuration Service allows the central ACP to communicate with each node in the cluster to manage settings, update the nlog.config files, and ensure that all servers are using the correct database connection strings. While the Queuing Service (Option C) might only reside on the Services server, and the Workflow Service (Option B) is specific to AWF tasks, the Configuration Service is the "heartbeat" that connects any given Archer server to the instance's central management framework. If this service is stopped on a web server, that server will effectively become "orphaned" and will not be able to process user requests correctly or receive updates from the ACP.

NEW QUESTION # 40

Which API(s) are capable of running Archer reports?

- A. SOAP API
- B. Content API
- C. RESTful API
- D. All of the Archer APIs

Answer: A

Explanation:

While Archer has been aggressively moving toward the RESTful API (Option C) for modern integrations, the ability to execute an existing Archer Report and retrieve the results has historically been a core function of the SOAP API (Web Services). Specifically, the SearchSvc (Search Service) within the SOAP API includes the ExecuteSearch and SearchRecordsByReport methods. According to the Archer Administration II technical integration documents, the RESTful API is primarily designed for CRUD operations (Create, Read, Update, Delete) on individual records and metadata. While newer versions of the REST API are expanding, the legacy SOAP Web Services remain the primary, verified method for triggering a pre-defined "Saved Report" via an external call. The Content API (Option D) is a subset of the RESTful API focused on record data but lacks the high-level report execution engine found in the SOAP services.
