CompTIA Network+ Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q10-Q15):

NEW QUESTION # 10
Which of the following is likely to occur when a host fails to obtain an IP address from a DHCP server?

- A. A static IP is assigned
- B. The TCP/IP stack is disabled
- C. An RFC1918 address is being used
- D. The DHCP server is not available

Answer: D

Explanation:
When a host fails to obtain an IP address from a DHCP server, it assigns itself an APIPA (Automatic Private IP Addressing) address in the 169.254.x.x range, commonly described as a "self-assigned IP." This prevents communication outside the local link, including reaching the default gateway.

* B. RFC1918 addresses are private ranges (10.x.x.x, 172.16-31.x.x, 192.168.x.x), but these are not self- assigned.
* C. If the TCP/IP stack were disabled, the host wouldn't have any IP at all.
* D. If a static IP were assigned, it would show a configured value, not self-assigned.

NEW QUESTION # 11
Users are experiencing significant lag while connecting to a cloud-based application during peak hours. An examination of the network reveals that the bandwidth is being heavily utilized. Further analysis shows that only a few users are using the application at any given time. Which of the following is the most cost-effective solution for this issue?

- A. Lease a Direct Connect connection to the cloud service provider.
- B. Implement QoS to prioritize application traffic.
- C. Use a CDN to service the application.
- D. Limit the number of users who can access the application.

Answer: B

Explanation:
Quality of Service (QoS)is the best cost-effective solution. It prioritizes traffic based on application criticality.
If the bandwidth is limited and only a few users are affected, prioritizing that application traffic can improve performance without needing costly bandwidth upgrades or direct connections.

NEW QUESTION # 12
Which of the following can support a jumbo frame?

- A. Access point
- B. Bridge
- C. Switch
- D. Hub

Answer: C

Explanation:
Definition of Jumbo Frames:
Jumbo frames are Ethernet frames with more than 1500 bytes of payload, typically up to 9000 bytes. They are used to improve network performance by reducing the overhead caused by smaller frames.
Why Switches Support Jumbo Frames:
Switches are network devices designed to manage data packets and can be configured to support jumbo frames. This capability enhances throughput and efficiency, particularly in high- performance networks and data centers.

NEW QUESTION # 13
A network administrator is configuring a wireless network with an ESSID. Which of the following is a user benefit of ESSID compared to SSID?

- A. Increased throughput
- B. Roaming between access points
- C. Advanced security
- D. Stronger wireless connection

Answer: B

Explanation:
An Extended Service Set Identifier (ESSID) allows multiple access points to share the same SSID, enabling seamless roaming for users. This means that users can move between different access points within the same ESSID without losing connection or having to reauthenticate. This provides a better user experience, especially in large environments such as office buildings or campuses.

NEW QUESTION # 14
Which of the following is the next step to take after successfully testing a root cause theory?

- A. Implement the solution to the problem.
- B. Duplicate the problem in a lab.
- C. Determine resolution steps.
- D. Present the theory for approval.

Answer: A

Explanation:
* Troubleshooting Methodology:
* Confirming the Root Cause: After testing and confirming the theory, the next logical step is to address the issue by implementing a solution.
* Implementation of the Solution:
* Resolve the Issue: Implement the identified solution to rectify the problem. This step involves making necessary changes to the network configuration, replacing faulty hardware, or applying software patches.
* Documentation: Document the solution and the steps taken to resolve the issue to provide a reference for future troubleshooting.
* Comparison with Other Steps:
* Determine Resolution Steps: This is part of the implementation process where specific actions are outlined, but the actual next step after testing is to implement those steps.
* Duplicate the Problem in a Lab: This step is typically done earlier in the troubleshooting process to understand the problem, not after confirming the root cause.
* Present the Theory for Approval: In some scenarios, presenting the theory might be necessary for major changes, but generally, once the root cause is confirmed, the solution should be implemented.
* Final Verification:
* After implementing the solution, it is important to verify that the issue is resolved and that normal operations are restored. This may involve monitoring the network and testing to ensure no further issues arise.
