NEW QUESTION # 12

A cybersecurity analyst wants to choose a machine learning (ML) model to classify log entries while providing the best explainability. Which of the following models should the analyst use?

- A. Generative adversarial network (GAN)
- B. Decision trees
- C. Neural networks
- D. Large language model (LLM)

Answer: B

Explanation:

Decision trees provide clear and interpretable decision paths, making them highly explainable compared to complex models like neural networks or GANs. This makes them the best choice for classifying log entries when explainability is a priority.

NEW QUESTION # 13

A financial organization implements a new AI-based fraud detection system to flag suspicious transactions. A security analyst discovers that it occasionally blocks legitimate transactions.

Which of the following is the best recommendation?

- A. Rolling back the model and using a traditional fraud detection system
- B. Implementing AI token usage and rate limits
- C. Encrypting all the data processed by AI and applying further access controls
- D. Retaining the model with more data and recent transaction patterns

Answer: D

Explanation:

False positives occur when the AI model lacks sufficient or representative training data.

Retraining the model with more diverse and recent transaction patterns improves accuracy, reducing the chance of legitimate transactions being incorrectly flagged.

NEW QUESTION # 14

Which of the following requires developers to harden infrastructure to protect AI systems?

- A. Development guidelines
- B. Intake processes

Which of the following techniques is the most effective way to secure the system against manipulation attacks?

- A. Guardrails
- B. Cross-validation
- C. Feature regularization
