UiPath Specialized AI Associate Exam (2023.10) Sample Questions (Q196-Q201):

NEW QUESTION # 196

In which of the following scenarios, the ML Classifier is the only recommended classifier to be used, according to best practice?

- A. When the custom document types are very similar and file splitting is necessary.
- B. When the custom document types are not similar and file splitting is not necessary.
- C. When the custom document types are very similar and file splitting is not necessary.
- D. When the custom document types are not similar and file splitting is necessary.

Answer: C

Explanation:
The ML Classifier is a document classifier that uses a machine learning model deployed as an ML Skill in AI Center to perform document classification tasks. The ML Classifier can work by default with Invoices, Purchase Orders, Receipts, and Utility Bills, or with custom document types that are trained using the Data Manager and the Machine Learning Classifier Trainer12.
According to the best practice, the ML Classifier is the only recommended classifier to be used when the custom document types are very similar and file splitting is not necessary. This is because the ML Classifier can handle complex and ambiguous cases where the document types are hard to distinguish by rules or keywords, and can also learn from feedback and improve over time. File splitting is not necessary when the documents are single-page or have a consistent number of pages per document type3.
The other options are not correct because they are scenarios where other classifiers, such as the Keyword Based Classifier or the Intelligent Keyword Classifier, can be used in combination with the ML Classifier or instead of it. These classifiers are based on rules or keywords that can identify the document types based on their content or metadata, and can also perform file splitting if the documents are multi-page or have a variable number of pages per document type3.

NEW QUESTION # 197

What is one best practice when designing a UiPath Communications Mining label taxonomy?

- A. Each label should include customer experience/sentiment analysis in its coverage.
- B. Each parent label should have at least 3 children labels to ensure specificity.
- C. Each label should be identifiable from the text of the individual verbatim (not thread) to which it will be applied.
- D. Each label should overlap sliqhtlv with a few distinct others so we ensure 100% coveraqe.

Answer: C

Explanation:
A label taxonomy is a hierarchical structure of concepts that you want to capture from your communications data, such as emails, chats, or calls. Each label represents a specific concept that serves a business purpose and is aligned to your objectives. A label taxonomy can have multiple levels of hierarchy, where each child label is a subset of its parent label. For example, a parent label could be "Product Feedback" and a child label could be "Product Feature Request" or "Product Bug Report". A label taxonomy is used to train a machine learning model that can automatically classify your communications data according to the labels you defined1.
One of the best practices for designing a label taxonomy is to ensure that each label is clearly identifiable from the text of the individual verbatim (not thread) to which it will be applied. A verbatim is a single unit of communication, such as an email message, a chat message, or a call transcript segment. A thread is a collection of related verbatims, such as an email conversation, a chat session, or a call recording. When you train your model, you will apply labels to verbatims, not threads, so it is important that each label can be recognized from the verbatim text alone, without relying on the context of the thread. This will help the model to learn the patterns and features of each label and to generalize to new data. It will also help you to maintain consistency and accuracy when labelling your data2.

NEW QUESTION # 198

In a Document Understanding project, the user needs to extract information from PDF documents with the following requirements:
The documents can contain scanned or digitally typed text.
The documents can contain checkboxes, and these must be extracted.
The automation must use the logical processors in the most efficient way to obtain the maximum degree of parallelism.What are the properties provided to the Digitize Document activity in the Digitize phase?

- A. ApplyOcrOnPdf -> No DegreeOfParallelism -> True DetectCheckboxes -> True
- B. ApplyOcrOnPdf -> Auto DegreeOfParallelism -> Max DetectCheckboxes -> True
- C. ApplyOcrOnPdf -> Auto DegreeOfParallelism -> -1 DetectCheckboxes -> True
- D. ApplyOcrOnPdf -> Auto
- E. ApplyOcrOnPdf -> No DegreeOfParallelism -> -1 DetectCheckboxes -> False

Answer: C

Explanation:
For the described requirements:
ApplyOcrOnPdf set to Auto ensures OCR is applied only when needed.
DegreeOfParallelism set to -1 uses all available logical processors for maximum parallelism.

NEW QUESTION # 199
What information is required when creating a data labeling session?

- A. Data labeling name, language, and number of documents.
- B. Data labeling name, dataset. and Al Center project.
- C. Data labeling session name and dataset.
- D. Dataset and Al Center project.

Answer: C

Explanation:
When creating a data labeling session in UiPath AI Center, the key pieces of information required are:
The data labeling session name: A unique identifier for the session.
The dataset: The data that will be used in the labeling session.

NEW QUESTION # 200
When should a UiPath Communications Mining taxonomy be imported?

- A. After pruning and reorganizing a taxonomy.
- B. Before starting the model training.
- C. When new labels must be added to the taxonomy.
- D. As part of the "Increase coverage" phase.

Answer: B

Explanation:
In UiPath Communications Mining, importing a taxonomy should be done before starting model training. The taxonomy, which includes labels and categories, defines how the data will be classified and structured during the training process. It is essential to have a well-defined taxonomy to ensure accurate predictions and classifications. Importing the taxonomy before training allows the model to learn from it, enhancing its performance. Changes to the taxonomy can be made later, but the initial import is crucial at the start of the training phase to guide the model effectively.
