Esri Enterprise Administration Professional 2201 Sample Questions (Q12-Q17):

NEW QUESTION # 12

In an existing ArcGIS Enterprise deployment, the ArcGIS Data Interoperability extension must be licensed on one of the federated ArcGIS Server sites. The administrator has received the license file for the extension. What should the administrator do?

- A. Use the Software Authorization Wizard to apply the license and then restart
- B. Manually add the license to the JSON license file, and then reload it
- C. Use the ArcGIS Server installation program to apply the license

Answer: A

Explanation:

To license the ArcGIS Data Interoperability extension on a federated ArcGIS Server site, the administrator must use the Software Authorization Wizard. This is the officially supported and recommended method provided by Esri for authorizing additional extensions to ArcGIS Server.

According to the ArcGIS Enterprise Installation Guide and Esri's administration best practices:

* The Software Authorization Wizard is the tool used to input license information and authorize software features such as the Data Interoperability extension.

* This wizard can be launched after installation or from the ArcGIS Server program group at any time.

* Once the license is applied using the wizard, it is necessary to restart the ArcGIS Server services so that the newly authorized extension is loaded properly.

Option A is incorrect because Esri does not support manually modifying license JSON files. Doing so can corrupt the licensing configuration and is not documented or recommended.

Option C is incorrect because the ArcGIS Server installation program does not apply or manage licenses-it is used solely for installing the core server software.

Therefore, the correct method is to use the Software Authorization Wizard, apply the license file, and restart the ArcGIS Server service to activate the extension.

NEW QUESTION # 13

An organization experiences a temporary loss of service for its ArcGIS Enterprise deployment due to expired licenses. What should the administrator have done to prevent this issue?

- A. Create a Python script to run an administrative report and schedule the script to run regularly
- B. Use the license file in read-only mode to extend the license
- C. Design an information banner to automatically display the license expiration date
- D. Configure the ArcGIS Enterprise portal to send an automated email when the portal license is expiring

Answer: A

Explanation:

ArcGIS Enterprise doesn't currently offer automated license expiration email alerts. However, administrators can use administrative scripts to query license status and generate reports that can be automated using task schedulers (e.g., Windows Task Scheduler).

From Esri guidance:

"Administrators can monitor license status using the ArcGIS REST API or scripting tools. Automating these checks allows timely action before licenses expire."

* Option A is not a native capability of the portal.

* Option C is not tied to licensing and is only useful as a passive alert.

* Option D is not a valid license management option.

NEW QUESTION # 14

A GIS administrator installs and configures an ArcGIS GeoAnalytics Server machine with four cores and 16 GB of RAM. Users experience a slowdown when analyzing large datasets.

Which action should the administrator perform?

- A. Add 16 GB of RAM to the GeoAnalytics Server machine
- B. Set the GeoAnalytics Server as the hosting server
- C. Add two cores to the GeoAnalytics Server machine

Answer: A

Explanation:

ArcGIS GeoAnalytics Server is designed to perform distributed analysis on large volumes of spatial and temporal data. To efficiently process large datasets, it is recommended that each machine in the GeoAnalytics Server site has at least 16 GB of RAM and 4 CPU cores. However, for optimal performance, especially when handling very large datasets, increasing the available RAM can significantly improve processing times.

In this scenario, the machine already has 16 GB of RAM and 4 cores. Adding more RAM would allow the GeoAnalytics Server to allocate more memory per job, enhancing its ability to process large datasets efficiently. Therefore, the recommended action is to add 16 GB of RAM to the GeoAnalytics Server machine.

NEW QUESTION # 15

After upgrading, a GIS administrator tries to log in to Portal for ArcGIS using admin credentials. The portal site doesn't display correctly and an error is shown. Login fails.

What should the administrator do?

- A. Roll back the upgrade
- B. Clear the browser's cache
- C. Run portalscan.py
- D. Reinstall the ArcGIS Web Adaptor

Answer: B

Explanation:

After an upgrade, Portal for ArcGIS often changes web elements, scripts, and cached content. If the browser is using old cached files, the portal page may not render correctly, and authentication may fail. Clearing the browser cache ensures that new files are loaded.

From Esri documentation:

"After upgrading ArcGIS Enterprise, clear the browser's cache to ensure that all updated components and scripts are loaded properly."

* Option A is a diagnostic tool, not a fix.

* Option B may be excessive if the issue is simply browser cache.

* Option D is not a standard troubleshooting step.
