Psychiatric Rehabilitation Association Certified Child and Family Resiliency Practitioner (CFRP) Sample Questions (Q32-Q37):

NEW QUESTION # 32

A child and his family are preparing to make an active change in their health and wellness. How would the practitioner proceed?

- A. Demonstrate empathy and understanding.
- B. Assist them in developing goal statements and plans.
- C. Assess their strengths and weaknesses.
- D. Examine their readiness to make changes.

Answer: D

Explanation:

In the CFRP framework, assessment, planning, and outcomes involve a structured approach to support families in achieving health and wellness goals. When a child and family are preparing to make active changes, the practitioner's first step is to examine their readiness to make changes, using frameworks like the Stages of Change model to ensure commitment and feasibility. The CFRP study guide states, "Before initiating health and wellness changes, practitioners must examine the child and family's readiness to make changes to ensure effective planning and engagement." Demonstrating empathy (option B), developing goals (option C), or assessing strengths (option D) are important but follow the initial assessment of readiness.

* CFRP Study Guide (Section on Assessment, Planning, and Outcomes): "When a child and family are preparing for health and wellness changes, the practitioner's first step is to examine their readiness to make changes, ensuring alignment with their motivation and capacity." References:

NEW QUESTION # 33

Empathy is

- A. feeling pity or sorrow for someone's misfortune.
- B. sharing a similar experience with someone else.
- C. being concerned with the well-being of another.
- D. understanding a person on a cognitive and emotional level.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Interpersonal competencies in the CFRP framework highlight empathy as a key skill for building therapeutic relationships. Empathy is defined as understanding a person on both a cognitive (intellectual comprehension) and emotional (feeling with) level, enabling deep connection. The CFRP study guide states, "Empathy involves understanding a person on a cognitive and emotional level, fostering trust and validation in interactions." Feeling pity (option A) describes sympathy, not empathy. Sharing experiences (option C) is not required for empathy, and concern for well-being (option D) is too broad.

* CFRP Study Guide (Section on Interpersonal Competencies): "Empathy is the ability to understand a person on both cognitive and emotional levels, creating a foundation for trustful relationships." References:

NEW QUESTION # 34

One principle of multicultural psychiatric rehabilitation is recognizing that culture is

- A. based on country of origin.
- B. central to family recovery.

- C. defined by language, ethnicity, and race.
- D. responsible for family treatment outcomes.

Answer: B

Explanation:

The CFRP framework emphasizes the importance of cultural competence in psychiatric rehabilitation, particularly in fostering recovery for children and families. According to the CFRP study guide, multicultural psychiatric rehabilitation recognizes that "culture is central to recovery" because it shapes individuals' and families' beliefs, values, and practices, which significantly influence their engagement with services and their recovery process. Culture is not narrowly defined by language, ethnicity, or race (as in option D), nor is it solely based on country of origin (option B). While culture can influence treatment outcomes, it is not accurate to say it is "responsible" for them (option A), as outcomes depend on multiple factors, including service quality and individual circumstances. Instead, the CFRP principles highlight that cultural competence involves understanding and integrating cultural contexts into recovery plans to support family resilience and recovery.

* CFRP Study Guide (Section on Interpersonal Competencies): "Recognizing that culture is central to recovery is a core principle of multicultural psychiatric rehabilitation. Practitioners must understand the cultural contexts of families to effectively support their recovery journey." References:

NEW QUESTION # 35

A practitioner is completing an assessment with a child who recently experienced a traumatic event. The child is avoiding questions related to the event. The practitioner should

- A. continue questioning the child about the trauma.
- B. ask the parent about the child's trauma.
- C. allow the child to disclose at his own pace.
- D. refer the child to a therapist.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Trauma-informed care is a cornerstone of supporting health and wellness in the CFRP framework. When a child who has experienced a traumatic event avoids discussing it during an assessment, the practitioner should allow the child to disclose at their own pace, respecting their emotional readiness and avoiding re-traumatization. The CFRP study guide emphasizes, "In trauma-informed assessments, practitioners should allow children to disclose details of traumatic events at their own pace to ensure safety and trust." Asking the parent (option A) may be a secondary step but bypasses the child's autonomy. Referring to a therapist (option C) or continuing questioning (option D) may be premature or harmful without first establishing trust.

* CFRP Study Guide (Section on Supporting Health and Wellness): "When a child avoids discussing a traumatic event during assessment, practitioners should allow disclosure at the child's own pace, prioritizing safety and trust in trauma-informed care."

NEW QUESTION # 36

According to the Adverse Childhood Experience (ACE) Study, adverse childhood experiences have been linked to the following health problems.

- A. Cancer, sexually transmitted diseases, and depression
- B. Diabetes, acne, and anxiety
- C. Attention deficit hyperactivity disorder, eczema, and asthma
- D. Obesity, psoriasis, and head trauma

Answer: A

Explanation:

Supporting health and wellness in the CFRP framework includes understanding the long-term impacts of adverse childhood experiences (ACEs). The ACE Study links ACEs to health problems such as cancer, sexually transmitted diseases, and depression, due to their influence on physical and mental health outcomes.

The CFRP study guide states, "The Adverse Childhood Experience Study demonstrates that ACEs are associated with increased risks of cancer, sexually transmitted diseases, and depression, reflecting their broad impact on health." Options A, B, and D include conditions (e.g., acne, psoriasis, eczema) not directly linked to ACEs in the study's findings.

* CFRP Study Guide (Section on Supporting Health and Wellness): "Per the ACE Study, adverse childhood experiences are linked to health issues like cancer, sexually transmitted diseases, and depression, highlighting their significant health consequences."
