APICS Certified Supply Chain Professional Sample Questions (Q239-Q244):

NEW QUESTION # 239

Which of the following effects is most likely to occur for a supply chain within a trading bloc?

- A. Increased loss of intellectual property
- B. Increased growth due to consolidation
- C. Loss of business due to more imports
- D. Shorter lead times due to decreased border crossing scrutiny

Answer: D

Explanation:

A trading bloc is a type of intergovernmental agreement where regional barriers to trade, such as tariffs and non-tariff barriers, are reduced or eliminated among the participating states.

* Reduced Border Controls: Within a trading bloc, member countries typically experience reduced customs checks and streamlined procedures at borders, leading to faster processing times.

* Harmonized Regulations: Trading blocs often harmonize regulations and standards, which reduces delays caused by differing national standards and compliance checks.

* Enhanced Cooperation: Increased cooperation among member countries can lead to better infrastructure and more efficient logistical coordination, further reducing lead times.

This reduction in border crossing scrutiny directly leads to shorter lead times, making option D the most likely effect on a supply chain within a trading bloc.

NEW QUESTION # 242

When developing an environmentally responsible purchasing program, which of the following alternatives should be considered?

- A. Proximity of skilled labor
- B. Transportation impact
- C. Regional market share
- D. Infrastructure development

Answer: B

Explanation:

When developing an environmentally responsible purchasing program, considering the transportation impact is critical due to the following reasons:

* Carbon Footprint: Transportation contributes significantly to the carbon footprint. Choosing suppliers closer to the point of use can reduce emissions.

* Fuel Consumption: Longer transportation routes consume more fuel, leading to higher greenhouse gas emissions and environmental impact.

* Sustainability Goals: Aligning transportation choices with sustainability goals can enhance a company's environmental credentials and meet regulatory requirements.

* Cost Efficiency: Reduced transportation distances can also lead to cost savings in fuel and logistics, supporting both economic and environmental objectives.
