UiPath Automation Business Analyst Associate Exam (2023.10) Sample Questions (Q55-Q60):

NEW QUESTION # 55

Which of the following roles is responsible for becoming well-versed in the business process to be automated?

- A. Automation Developer
- B. Infrastructure Engineer
- C. Solution Architect
- D. Automation Business Analyst

Answer: D

Explanation:

The Automation Business Analyst is responsible for becoming well-versed in the business process that is to be automated. Their role is to deeply understand the process from the business perspective and ensure that the automation solution aligns with business goals and stakeholder expectations.

They achieve this by conducting workshops, shadowing sessions, and interviews with Subject Matter Experts (SMEs) from the Client Team. They then document the As-Is process and help define the To-Be state, collaborating closely with the Solution Architect to ensure feasibility and completeness.

The Business Analyst is also instrumental in identifying automation candidates, validating business value, and defining success criteria and UAT scenarios. Their business-focused insights are essential in building automations that deliver real value and meet the organization's objectives.

NEW QUESTION # 56

What does the Application Tracker document typically capture?

- A. Infrastructure cost analysis
- B. List of all business KPIs affected by automation
- C. Record of accesses required for development, UAT, and production
- D. Breakdown of testing results for UAT

Answer: C

Explanation:

The Application Tracker is a document used to record all system access requirements for an automation project. It lists the access needs for developers, robots, and testers across various environments - development, UAT, and production.

It captures details like system names, access levels required, request status, responsible teams, and timelines.

This tracker is essential for coordinating with Client IT Teams and preventing delays due to access issues.

By maintaining a centralized record, the Project Manager and Infrastructure Engineer can track the provisioning process and ensure all technical resources have the access they need. This proactive documentation supports a smooth and timely execution of development and testing phases.

NEW QUESTION # 57

Which stage involves analyzing the As-Is process and preparing documentation like the PDD?

- A. Development and Testing
- B. Process Analysis
- C. Project Closure
- D. Solution Design

Answer: B

Explanation:

The Process Analysis stage involves thoroughly analyzing the As-Is process and preparing the Process Definition Document (PDD). This stage is led by the Business Analyst and Solution Architect, often with input from process Subject Matter Experts (SMEs) from the Client Team.

Key activities include:

- * Shadowing process performers
- * Mapping step-by-step workflows
- * Identifying exceptions and business rules
- * Documenting input/output data
- * Noting system interactions

The PDD created in this stage becomes the foundation for the Solution Design and subsequent development phases. Accurate and complete documentation ensures that the automation solution will meet business needs and be technically sound.

NEW QUESTION # 58

Which of the following best describes how automation software robots operate?

- A. They mimic human actions to interact with digital systems and applications.
- B. They write code autonomously.
- C. They physically interact with machines to perform tasks.
- D. They require constant human supervision.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Automation software robots, particularly those built using UiPath, operate by mimicking human actions to interact with digital systems and applications. This includes actions such as clicking buttons, typing into fields, reading data from screens, extracting information from documents, navigating applications, and triggering system events. Their behavior is defined through automation workflows created by developers using tools like UiPath Studio.

These robots do not require constant supervision; unattended robots operate autonomously, while attended robots are triggered by users. They also do not interact physically with machines. Instead, they work entirely within virtual environments, desktops, and applications.

By replicating human behavior in digital workflows, robots can perform repetitive, rule-based tasks consistently, quickly, and without fatigue. This enables organizations to improve operational efficiency, reduce human error, increase accuracy, and free employees to focus on more strategic work.

Software robots do not write code on their own—developers design their workflows. However, with AI enhancements, they can assist in automation development. Still, their core functionality relies on executing predefined instructions that simulate human interaction with digital systems.

NEW QUESTION # 59

What is the output of the Solution Design stage in the UiPath Automation Implementation Methodology?

- A. Hypercare Support Plan
- B. Automation Test Plan
- C. Process Definition Document (PDD)
- D. Approved Solution Design Document (SDD)

Answer: D

Explanation:

The main deliverable from the Solution Design stage is the Approved Solution Design Document (SDD).

This document contains a detailed description of the To-Be automation flow, including technical components, workflow modules, system interactions, exception handling strategies, and deployment plans.

The solution architect leads this stage, working with the automation developers and project manager to translate the requirements documented in the PDD into a scalable, modular, and efficient automation architecture. The SDD serves as the blueprint for the development team, ensuring consistency and clarity in how the automation should be built.

This document also includes details on infrastructure, access requirements, assumptions, dependencies, and constraints. A well-documented and approved SDD reduces development time, minimizes rework, and increases the likelihood of successful testing and deployment.
