- A. Maliciousness score determined by NGAV
- B. Number of hosts that ran the PowerShell script

- C. How recently the PowerShell script executed
- D. A cumulative score of the various potential command line switches

Answer: D

Explanation:

In the Powershell Hunt report, the score signifies a cumulative score of the various potential command line switches that were used in the PowerShell script execution. The score is based on a weighted system that assigns different values to different switches based on their potential maliciousness or usefulness for threat hunting. For example, -EncodedCommand has a higher value than -NoProfile. The score does not signify the number of hosts that ran the PowerShell script, how recently the PowerShell script executed, or the maliciousness score determined by NGAV.
