- A. VlodtyMetadata cache
- B. CachedAPHtesponse cache
- C. CPQPartition cache
- D. VlocityAPIResponse cache

The Collapse Hierarchy flag when defining a product bundle in Salesforce Industries CPQ is used to:

* Collapse the product hierarchy data key value pairs, in order to improve performance for very large bundles: This flag simplifies the product hierarchy representation by collapsing it into fewer levels. This is particularly useful in enhancing performance by reducing the complexity and depth of product hierarchies during the configuration and pricing processes, especially in large, nested bundles.

By collapsing the hierarchy, the system can process large bundles more efficiently, leading to quicker load times and less strain on the system during complex configuration scenarios.
