NEW QUESTION # 208

A client is being discharged and will continue enteral feedings at home. Which of the following statements by a family member indicates the need for further teaching?

- A. "I should anticipate that he will gain about 1 lb/day now that he is on continuous feedings."
- B. "If he develops diarrhea lasting for more than 2-3 days, I will contact the doctor or nurse."
- C. "I should use prepared or open formula within 24 hours and store unused portions in the refrigerator."
- D. "It is important to keep the head of his bed elevated or sit him in the chair during feedings."

Answer: A

Explanation:

(A)

Diarrhea is a complication of tube feedings that can lead to dehydration. Diarrhea may be the result of hypertonic formulas that can draw fluid into the bowel. Other causes of diarrhea may be bacterial contamination, fecal impaction, medications, and low albumin.

(B)

A consistent weight gain of more than 0.22 kg/day (12 lb/day) over several days should be reported promptly. The client should be evaluated for fluid volume excess. (C) Elevating the client's head prevents reflux and thus formula from entering the airway. (D) Bacteria proliferate rapidly in enteral formulas and can cause gastroenteritis and even sepsis.

NEW QUESTION # 209

The nurse is preparing a 6-year-old child for an IV insertion. Which one of the following statements by the nurse is appropriate when preparing a child for a potentially painful procedure?

- A. "This is a terrible procedure, so don't look."
- B. "This is going to hurt a lot; close your eyes and hold my hand."
- C. "This will hurt only a little; try to be a big boy."
- D. "Some say this feels like a pinch or a bug bite. You tell me what it feels like."

Answer: D

Explanation:

Explanation

(A) Educating the child about the pain may lessen anxiety. The child should be prepared for a potentially painful procedure but avoid suggesting pain. The nurse should allow the child his own sensory perception and evaluation of the procedure. (B) The nurse should avoid absolute descriptive statements and allow the child his own perception of the procedure. (C) The nurse should avoid evaluative statements or descriptions and give the child control in describing his reactions. (D) False statements regarding a painful procedure will cause a loss of trust between the child and the nurse.

NEW QUESTION # 210

The most important goal in the care plan for a child who was hospitalized with an accidental overdose would be to:

- A. Instruct parents in use of ipecac
- B. Reduce mother's sense of guilt
- C. Determine child's activity pattern
- D. Teach parents appropriate safety precautions

Answer: D

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

(A) This goal is not the most important. (B) There is always some guilt when an accident occurs; however, the priority is to be sure future accidents are prevented. (C) Ipecac is not used for caustic alkali and acid ingestions. (D) Determining the parent's knowledge about safety hazards and teaching appropriate preventive measures are likely to prevent recurrence of accidents.

NEW QUESTION # 211

Which of the following procedures is necessary to establish a definitive diagnosis of breast cancer?

- A. Diaphanography
- B. Breast tissue biopsy
- C. Mammography
- D. Thermography

Answer: B

Explanation:

Section: Questions Set A

Explanation:

(A) Diaphanography, also known as transillumination, is a painless, noninvasive imaging technique that involves shining a light source through the breast tissue to visualize the interior. It must be used in conjunction with a mammogram and physical examination. (B) Mammography is a useful tool for screening but is not considered a means of diagnosing breast cancers. (C) Thermography is a pictorial representation of heat patterns on the surface of the breast. Breast cancers appear as a "hot spot" owing to their higher metabolic rate. (D) Biopsy either by needle aspiration or by surgical incision is the primary diagnostic technique for confirming the presence of cancer cells.

NEW QUESTION # 212

The physician of an alcoholic client places him on a low-protein, high-carbohydrate diet. When choosing his menu, the client's best choice from the items below would be:

- A. Waffles with butter and honey, orange juice
- B. Cheese omelette with ham and mushrooms, milk
- C. Liver and onions, macaroni and cheese, tea with sugar
- D. Baked chicken, baked potato with bacon bits, milk

Answer: A

Explanation:

(A, B, D) These foods are high in protein, which needs to be restricted. (C) Serum ammonia levels can be decreased by restricting dietary protein intake. Waffles, honey, and orange juice are high in carbohydrate and low or completely lacking in protein. Butter, a concentrated fat, will provide extra calories.
