NEW QUESTION # 170

Which three Data Model objects do Reconciliation Rules operate across?

- A. Lead
- B. Party Identification
- C. Contact
- D. Contact Point Email
- E. Individual

Answer: B,D,E

Explanation:

Explanation

These are the three Data Model objects that Reconciliation Rules operate across. Reconciliation rules tell Data Cloud how to prioritize values for unified individual profiles when there is conflicting information in the data model. For example, if two profiles have different email addresses, reconciliation rules can determine which one to use for the unified profile. Reconciliation rules can operate on the Individual object, which represents a person or entity, the Party Identification object, which represents an identifier such as a social media handle or a loyalty card number, and the Contact Point Email object, which represents an email address. NEW QUESTION # 171

- B. Objects
- C. Objects, Fields, and Relationships
- D. Fields

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 172

What does the Ignore Empty Value option do in identity resolution?

- A. Ignores empty fields when running any custom match rules
- B. Ignores Individual object records with empty fields when running identity resolution rules
- C. Ignores empty fields when running the standard match rules
- D. Ignores empty fields when running reconciliation rules

Answer: D

Explanation:

The Ignore Empty Value option in identity resolution allows customers to ignore empty fields when running reconciliation rules. Reconciliation rules are used to determine the final value of an attribute for a unified individual profile, based on the values from different sources. The Ignore Empty Value option can be set to true or false for each attribute in a reconciliation rule. If set to true, the reconciliation rule will skip any source that has an empty value for that attribute and move on to the next source in the priority order. If set to false, the reconciliation rule will consider any source that has an empty value for that attribute as a valid source and use it to populate the attribute value for the unified individual profile.

The other options are not correct descriptions of what the Ignore Empty Value option does in identity resolution. The Ignore Empty Value option does not affect the custom match rules or the standard match rules, which are used to identify and link individuals across different sources based on their attributes. The Ignore Empty Value option also does not ignore individual object records with empty fields when running identity resolution rules, as identity resolution rules operate on the attribute level, not the record level.
