Esri Enterprise Administration Professional 2201 Sample Questions (Q15-Q20):

NEW QUESTION # 15

Users are reporting service timeouts and performance issues. The administrator notices that only the minimum number of instances are running during performance spikes. They want to monitor usage trends before adjusting instance settings.

Which action should the administrator perform?

- A. Create a report of server statistics in ArcGIS Server Manager
- B. Enable Windows Performance Monitor
- C. Monitor Task Manager on each ArcGIS Server machine
- D. Change the log level to Debug in ArcGIS Server Manager

Answer: A

Explanation:

To monitor usage patterns, including the number of requests and instances in use, ArcGIS Server provides statistics reports in Server Manager. These reports show peak and average service usage, helping administrators decide how to scale service instance counts.

From ArcGIS Server documentation:

"Use the ArcGIS Server Manager statistics reporting tool to monitor service usage trends over time. This data helps inform adjustments to instance counts."

* Option A gives only raw system metrics, not service-specific insights.

* Option B (Debug logs) causes overhead and isn't appropriate for monitoring trends.

NEW QUESTION # 16

A GIS administrator is publishing a feature service. All 2,400 features in the dataset must be able to be returned from a single request to the service.

Which action should the administrator perform?

- A. Adjust pooling to handle the request
- B. Enable cached drawing mode
- C. Increase the max record count
- D. Use service defaults for publishing

Answer: C

Explanation:

By default, feature services limit the number of records returned in a single request (usually set to 1,000).

To allow all 2,400 features to be returned in one call, the administrator needs to increase the "Maximum number of records returned by the server"(maxRecordCount) setting during or after publishing.

From the ArcGIS Server documentation:

"The maxRecordCount property defines the number of records returned by the server in a single request. To return all features, this value must be increased accordingly."

* Option A (adjust pooling) relates to concurrency and scalability, not data retrieval limits.

* Option C would keep the default setting of 1,000, which would not meet the requirement.

* Option D relates to visual performance, not record retrieval.

NEW QUESTION # 17

A GIS administrator is analyzing the usage statistics of ArcGIS Enterprise. The administrator needs to pull tabular statistics on various groups and users about the type of content that they produce and consume.

Which action should the administrator perform?

- A. Open ArcGIS Server statistics to create a report for commonly used items.
- B. Run usage reports in Portal for ArcGIS to determine the effect on the organization.
- C. Use ArcGIS Monitor to capture desired information over a period of time in a report.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 18

A new user is added to the organization and can see roads, building footprints, parcels, and traffic data shared with them in Portal for ArcGIS. However, the user cannot use analysis tools in the portal, even though the SpatialAnalysisTools service is verified to be running.

What is causing this issue?

- A. The hosting server has not been configured
- B. The new user is a Creator user type
- C. SpatialAnalysisTools needs to be restarted
- D. The service needs to be published as a hosted layer

Answer: A

Explanation:

Even if the SpatialAnalysisTools geoprocessing service is running, analysis tools in Portal for ArcGIS will not be available unless a hosting server is configured. The hosting server provides the portal with required processing capabilities, including the ability to create hosted feature layers and perform spatial analysis.

From ArcGIS documentation:

"Portal for ArcGIS requires a hosting server to run analysis tools and publish hosted feature layers. Without a hosting server, the analysis tools will be unavailable, even if the geoprocessing services are running."

* Option A is incorrect: the Creator user type does support spatial analysis, assuming privileges are assigned.

* Option C is a distraction; the service is already confirmed running.

NEW QUESTION # 19

An ArcGIS analyst is curating a series of basemaps for field crews editing utility infrastructure in the field.

The analyst must ensure optimal performance.

Which type of service should be published?

- A. Cached map service
- B. Vector tile service
- C. Dynamic map service

Answer: B

Explanation:

For field operations, Vector Tile Services are highly efficient and suitable for basemaps. They offer fast rendering, smaller file sizes, and are easily scalable across various devices, including those with limited bandwidth or processing capabilities. Vector tiles also support dynamic styling and are ideal for offline use, which is often necessary for field crews working in areas with limited connectivity.

Cached map services (Option A) are raster-based and can be larger in size, making them less optimal for mobile use. Dynamic map services (Option C) require real-time data rendering, which can be resource-intensive and may not perform well in field conditions with limited connectivity.
