Cisco Supporting Cisco Devices for Field Technicians Sample Questions (Q39-Q44):

NEW QUESTION # 39

Drag and drop the virtualized data center components from the left onto the corresponding descriptions on the right.

Answer:

Explanation:

NEW QUESTION # 40

Which action must be taken before powering down the endpoint during the replacement process of a Cisco collaboration device?

- A. Reset the device to factory settings.
- B. Back up the configuration.
- C. Activate the new device.
- D. Install the new hardware.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Before shutting down any Cisco collaboration device (such as an IP phone, video endpoint, or codec) for replacement, it is essential to back up the configuration. This ensures that all custom settings, including user profiles, network configurations, and service settings, are preserved and can be quickly restored on the replacement device.

This backup minimizes downtime and avoids manual reconfiguration errors during the swap process.

NEW QUESTION # 41

What is a feature of Cisco Meraki switches that simplifies the replacement process?

- A. Cloud-based management
- B. Offline configuration backup
- C. Automatic hardware detection
- D. Built-in configuration wizard

Answer: A

Explanation:

Cloud-based management is a core feature of Cisco Meraki switches and significantly simplifies the device replacement process.

When a failed switch is replaced:

The new hardware can be claimed in the Meraki dashboard.

The previously assigned configuration is automatically applied to the replacement device.

This eliminates the need for local reconfiguration and ensures continuity with minimal manual effort.

This centralized approach ensures that configurations are stored securely and consistently applied across devices.

NEW QUESTION # 42

Why is a Cisco Nexus switch typically deployed in a network?

- A. As wireless accesspoints in enterprise campuses
- B. As edge routers connecting to ISPs
- C. In data centers for high-performance, low latency switching
- D. In branch offices for local area networking

Answer: C

Explanation:

Cisco Nexus switches are specifically designed for deployment in data centers, where they provide high-performance, low-latency switching to support modern workloads, virtualization, and cloud computing environments.

Nexus switches operate using NX-OS, a purpose-built operating system optimized for data center needs.

These switches support technologies like virtual port channels (vPC), FabricPath, and Application Centric Infrastructure (ACI), which are essential for scalable and highly available data center networks.

They are not typically used in branch offices, as wireless access points, or as edge routers.

NEW QUESTION # 43

Which term describes the physical range of radio frequency coverage provided by an access point in a wireless topology?

- A. Wireless LAN (WLAN)
- B. Basic Service Area (BSA)
- C. Wireless LAN Controller (WLC)
- D. Service Set Identifier (SSID)

Answer: B

Explanation:

In wireless networking, the Basic Service Area (BSA) refers to the physical area of radio frequency coverage provided by an access point (AP) in a Basic Service Set (BSS). The BSA defines the coverage area where wireless clients can connect to the network through the AP. The size and shape of a BSA depend on various factors, including the AP's transmit power, antenna type, and physical environment.

Option A, the Service Set Identifier (SSID), is the network name broadcast by the AP. Option C, Wireless LAN (WLAN), refers to the overall wireless network. Option D, Wireless LAN Controller (WLC), is a device that manages multiple APs in a network.
