IIA Internal Audit Function Sample Questions (Q529-Q534):

NEW QUESTION # 529

An internal auditor has been asked to conduct an investigation involving allegations of independent contractor fraud. Which of the following controls would be least effective in detecting any potential fraudulent activity?

- A. Monthly management review of all contractor activity.
- B. Periodic account reconciliation of contractor charges.
- C. Documented policy and procedures.
- D. Exception report identifying payment anomalies.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 530

Management has established a performance measurement focused on the accuracy of disbursements. The disbursement statistics, provided daily to all accounts payable and audit staff, include details of payments stratified by amount and frequency. Which of the following is likely to be the greatest concern regarding this performance measurement?

- A. Relevance of the data.
- B. Availability of the data.
- C. Articulation of the data
- D. Measurability of the data

Answer: A

Explanation:

* Performance Measurement Should Provide Meaningful Insights:

* While providing detailed statistics on disbursements, the greatest concern is whether the data is relevant to achieving the objective of accurate disbursements.

- * If the data does not directly support decision-making or process improvements, it may not serve its intended purpose.
- * IIA Standard 2010 - Planning requires internal auditors to evaluate the relevance of information used in decision-making.
- * A. Articulation of the data (Incorrect)
- * The way the data is presented is important but is a secondary concern compared to whether the data is relevant.
- * B. Availability of the data (Incorrect)
- * While timely access to data is critical, the primary concern is whether the data is meaningful in evaluating disbursement accuracy.
- * C. Measurability of the data (Incorrect)
- * The data is already being measured and reported; the real issue is whether it provides useful insights for improving accuracy.

Explanation of Incorrect Answers: Conclusion: The greatest concern with this performance measurement is whether the data is relevant (Option D) to assessing disbursement accuracy and guiding improvements.

NEW QUESTION # 531

Which of the following activities best illustrates a user's authentication control?

- A. Identity requests are approved in two steps.
- B. Users have to validate their identity with a smart card.
- C. Functions can be performed based on access rights
- D. Logs are checked for misaligned identities and access rights.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 532

A new advertising agency serves a wide range of clients including manufacturers, restaurants, service businesses, department stores, and other retail establishments. The accounting system the advertising agency has most likely adopted for its record keeping in accumulating costs is:

- A. Job-order costing
- B. Operation costing
- C. Relevant costing
- D. Process costing

Answer: A

Explanation:

Job-order costing is used by organizations whose products or services are readily identified by individual units or batches. The advertising agency accumulates its costs by client. Job-order costing is the most appropriate system for this type of nonmanufacturing firm.

NEW QUESTION # 533

During disaster recovery planning, the organization established a recovery point objective. Which of the following best describes this concept?

- A. The maximum tolerable risk related to the occurrence of an incident
- B. The minimum recovery resources needed after the occurrence of an incident
- C. The maximum tolerable data loss after the occurrence of an incident.
- D. The maximum tolerable downtime after the occurrence of an incident.

Answer: C
