Epic EDI101 Bridges Interfaces Exam Questions and Answers 2024

Does every HL7 message have to be encoded with the characters 1A-& ? - answer✓✓No, the encoding characters can be any printable character.

Imagine that your message begins with MSH1A&1. How would you encode the string "Th result is positive & has a value of 2.7 x 10A3."? - answer✓✓The result is positive \T has a value of 2.7 x 10\5\3.

Why is the NTE segment special? - answer✓✓Context; its meaning depends on the segment it follows

What is the difference between receiving an empty field |I and the delete sequence ? - answer✓✓An empty field is ignored by the interface, whereas the delete character will delete information from the database, assuming the field in question supports the delete character.

Aside from HL7 Version 2, name two other standards supported in Bridges? - answer✓✓X12, FHIR, NCPDP, DICOM, and Direct.

What is Bridges? - answer✓✓Epic's interfacing messages along with the application. It consists of both the interface infrastructure to build, send, receive, and file messages along with the tools and utilities to maintain those interfaces

What are stored in the Event Queue, Data Queue, and Control Queue? - answer✓✓The Event Queue contains the information needed to build a message. Usually this is a patient ID, an encounter DAT, and the type of message to be built, amongst other information.

The Data Queue contains the text of HL7 messages and additional metadata.

The Control Queue is a to-do list of message numbers to send or file.

Are messages ever manually deleted from the Data Queue? - answer✓✓No, never. They are purged only by an automated purge job.

What are two ways that interface messages are sent and received? - answer✓✓TCP/IP with an interface engine is the most common communication method. Interconnect is used for HTTPS or other communication outside your local network.

EPIC CEE: Bridges Interfaces Application Essentials Exam (2026 Version) Sample Questions (Q42-Q47):

NEW QUESTION # 42

Which of the following can be parts of an XML message? (SELECT ALL THAT APPLY)

- A. Attribute
- B. Namespace
- C. Element
- D. Processing ID
- E. Subcomponent Separator

Answer: A,B,C

Explanation:

XML messages are structured differently than HL7. Core components of XML include Elements (the tags that contain data), Attributes (properties provided within an element tag), and Namespaces (used to provide uniquely named elements and attributes in an XML document). "Subcomponent Separator" and "Processing ID" are specific to HL7 and are not native structural components of XML.

NEW QUESTION # 43

Which of the following conditions could prevent you from being able to skip a message?

- A. The message was resubmitted
- B. The message is waiting for a record lock
- C. The message is an incoming message
- D. The message has been processed

Answer: D

Explanation:

"Skipping" a message is a corrective action used to move a message out of the processing queue when it is blocking other messages or contains data that should not be filed. If a message has already been processed (successfully filed or completed its lifecycle), it is no longer in the active queue to be skipped. You can only skip messages that are currently in a "waiting" or "error" status within the active queues.

NEW QUESTION # 44

How can incoming interfaces determine the ID type to use when looking up a record? (SELECT ALL THAT APPLY)

- A. Incoming interfaces do not need to lookup an ID type
- B. Find any record with the received ID and choose an associated ID type
- C. Use a default ID type specified on the interface
- D. Match the ID type identifiers from the message to the External System Settings section of the ID Type configuration

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

Incoming interfaces must identify the correct ID Type to successfully locate a record in Chronicles. They do this in two primary ways:

* Default ID Type: The interface can be configured with a fallback ID type to use if no other information is provided.

* External System Settings: The interface can look at identifiers within the HL7 message (like the Assigning Authority in PID-3.4) and match them against the "External System Settings" defined in the ID Type configuration. Option C is incorrect because searching without a defined ID type would be inefficient and could lead to incorrect record matches.

NEW QUESTION # 45

How can you reuse error steps you've already created with additional error code/interface ID combinations?

- A. Error steps cannot be reused across multiple error codes
- B. Use the Copy Steps button from an Error Workqueue
- C. Use the sync manager to link steps together for multiple error codes
- D. Run the Error Steps Copy Utility in Bridges Text

Answer: D

Explanation:

To efficiently manage investigation documentation, Epic provides the Error Steps Copy Utility within the Bridges Text-based menus. This utility allows administrators to take a set of resolution steps defined for one error/interface and copy them to others, preventing the need for manual duplicate entry.

NEW QUESTION # 46

When applying a filter on a related record in the message companion, you notice that a message for a particular patient is not showing up in your results. Which of the following could be a reason for this behavior?

- A. The message was retriggered from another message.
- B. The patient is not linked to the message due to a failure error in message processing.
- C. The message companion only works for outgoing messages.
- D. You must specify "contains" instead of "equals" in your message search criteria.

Answer: B

Explanation:

The Message Companion relies on a successful link between a message and a specific record (like a Patient or Encounter). If a message encounters a failure error during processing (e.g., a critical identification error), Bridges may be unable to definitively link that message to the patient record in Chronicles. Because the link is missing, the message will not appear in tools like the Message Companion that filter specifically by that patient's ID.
