問題 #64
Suppose you are an acceptance tester in a project developing a medical scanner. The scanner is meant to be used in a hospital and should allow the examination of at leaser 50 patients per day. Which one of the following perspectives is MOST affected, if the produce does not meet the specified performance requirements?

- A. Functional perspective
- B. Technical perspective
- C. User perspective
- D. Business perspective

答案：D

解題說明：
The medical scanner must be able to examine at least 50 patients per day. This requirement directly impacts hospital operations and service efficiency. If the scanner fails to meet performance requirements, such as processing speed or availability, it will affect the hospital's ability to deliver services to patients - impacting schedules, patient flow, and ultimately the business goals of the hospital.

Option C is correct because it reflects the consequences of performance shortfalls from a business outcome perspective: failure to meet this requirement may result in financial loss, compliance issues, or customer dissatisfaction.

Other options:

A (User perspective) is involved, but the impact here is primarily operational/business.

B (Functional perspective) refers to whether the scanner has the correct features, not performance.

D (Technical perspective) is also relevant, but the business impact (e.g., service delivery) takes precedence in this case.

問題 #65

As an acceptance tester, you are stuck between two stakeholders that demand contradicting acceptance criteria Which one of the following actions is MOST promising to resolve the conflict?

- A. You organize a meeting of the two stakeholders so that they can solve the conflict personally
- B. Together with the business analyst, you determine which stakeholders is more important to decide between them
- C. Instead of discussing conflicting technical solutions, you try to understand the underlying business needs
- D. After having collected the pros and cons of each solutions, you base your decision on those objective criteria

解題說明：

When stakeholders provide conflicting acceptance criteria, resolving the conflict effectively requires focusing on the underlying business goals rather than getting stuck in technical or solution-level disagreements.

Option D is correct because it aligns with the core role of a business analyst and an acceptance tester: to understand and validate business needs. By exploring the root business objectives, you can help stakeholders reframe the problem and reach a compromise based on what delivers the most value.

Other options:

A may lead to confrontation and unproductive discussion without proper facilitation.

B is risky - prioritizing stakeholders may escalate conflict or appear biased.

C assumes you can objectively resolve the conflict based only on pros and cons, but without understanding the business context, the decision may not meet stakeholder needs.

D). Instead of discussing conflicting technical solutions, you try to understand the underlying business needs

問題 #66

Which one of the following sentences describes BEST a major advantage when business analysts and testers review the acceptance criteria together?

- A. The review of acceptance criteria helps to verify that acceptance test cases cover business processes, business rules and business risks.
- B. A shared vision between the business analyst and the tester on acceptance criteria facilitates the design of acceptance test cases.
- C. The review of acceptance criteria is a good practice to improve the quality of test reports.
- D. A joint review ensures that non-functional quality criteria are taken into account.

答案：B

問題 #67
