最新的 CBCI 7.0 Certification Course CBCI 免費考試真題 (Q33-Q38):

問題 #33

A strategic plan:

- A. Should identify viable options to coordinate efforts of the operational teams
- B. May be supported by a separate crisis communications plan
- C. May contain procedures for coordinating the transportation of personnel to alternate facilities
- D. Should contain procedures for responding to emergencies, including threats to life, or the environment

答案： B

解題說明：

Strategic plans set the overarching framework and objectives for Business Continuity and are often supported by separate tactical or crisis communication plans tailored to communication needs during disruptions. The CBCI 7.0 course clarifies that while strategic plans guide overall responses, detailed emergency procedures and logistics coordination typically reside in operational or tactical plans, ensuring clarity and focus at different planning levels.

問題 #34

Which of the following is NOT a way in which an organization can use exercise programs to ensure and validate supply chain continuity?

- A. By conducting internal exercises to assess the impact of supply chain failures
- B. By including key suppliers in an internal exercise
- C. By requiring suppliers to share evidence that recovery plans and exercise programs have been developed and implemented
- D. By including a requirement in Service Level Agreements (SLAs) for suppliers to carry out exercise activities and share the outcomes

答案： B

解題說明：

While including key suppliers in internal exercises might seem beneficial, the CBCI 7.0 course highlights that external suppliers should be engaged in their own exercises, separate from the organization's internal exercises. Instead, validation of supply chain continuity is better achieved by requiring suppliers to develop and test their recovery plans independently and sharing outcomes. Contractual obligations such as those embedded in SLAs ensure suppliers maintain their own Business Continuity preparedness, while internal exercises focus on organizational responses to supply chain disruptions. Conducting internal exercises to assess impacts remains essential to understand dependencies and potential vulnerabilities without compromising exercise control.

問題 #35

Which of the following is essential to ensure the ongoing effectiveness and relevance of a Business Continuity Management System (BCMS) and should be built into the initial process to establish a BCMS?

- A. Carrying out health and safety risk assessments in all parts of the organization and making a commitment to repeat these assessments every year as part of the BCMS
- B. Determining how the BCMS will be monitored, reviewed and continually improved over time
- C. Ensuring compliance with legal requirements across the company and developing a register of any risks
- D. Developing internal and external communications systems to raise the profile of the BCMS and highlight successful steps in the development

答案： B

解題說明：

The CBCI 7.0 course stresses that establishing mechanisms for ongoing monitoring, review, and continual improvement is a foundational element of the BCMS. This ensures the system remains effective, adaptable, and relevant as organizational contexts and risks evolve. Building these processes into the initial BCMS design facilitates proactive management of changes, drives performance enhancement, and aligns with ISO

22301 standards for Business Continuity. While communication systems, safety assessments, and compliance registers are important, they do not substitute for structured continual improvement processes, which embed resilience into organizational culture and operations.

問題 #36

When developing an exercise programme, it is important to include:

- A. Everyone with a role in a team relevant to the scenario being exercised
- B. Only members of the response team
- C. All employees of the organization
- D. Only Business Continuity (BC) professionals

答案： A

解題說明：

In CBCI 7.0, exercising sits within Validation (PP6) and is used to confirm that plans, procedures, and response structures can achieve the objectives set by the BC policy and BCMS requirements. An exercise programme must therefore be designed around the scenario and the capabilities being validated-meaning the correct participants are those who would actually perform roles during that type of disruption (strategic decision-makers, incident/crisis team roles, operational recovery leads, communications, IT/service owners, and key support functions), plus any dependent parties as needed.

That is exactly what option D states: include everyone with a role in a team relevant to the scenario being exercised. Including all employees (A) is unnecessary and often counterproductive; awareness activities can target all staff, but exercises should be role-based and objective-led. Including only the response team (B) excludes essential recovery and support roles that are frequently critical to product/service restoration. Including only BC professionals (C) turns an organizational capability test into a specialist discussion and fails to validate real execution.

問題 #37

In order to make it easier to manage risk, complexity and cost when establishing a Business Continuity Management System (BCMS), the initial scope of the BCMS should:

- A. Be limited to information technology disaster recovery plans
- B. Be limited to specific high-value areas of the organization
- C. Focus on crisis management
- D. Include as many of the organization's products and services as possible

答案： B

解題說明：

The CBCI 7.0 course advises that when establishing a BCMS, an initial focused scope limited to high-value or critical parts of the organization is practical to manage complexity and costs effectively. This allows targeted efforts on areas that pose the greatest risks or have the most significant impact on continuity. Over time, the scope can be expanded as maturity develops. Including everything initially or focusing only on IT disaster recovery limits effectiveness or overcomplicates early efforts, respectively. Crisis management is part of BCMS but not the sole focus of the initial scope.
