CWNP Certified Wireless Analysis Professional Sample Questions (Q89-Q94):

NEW QUESTION # 89

You are explaining capacity planning to another engineer assisting you on a WLAN implementation project.

As part of the explanation, you provide the following formula: $C = B * \log_2(1 + S/N)$.

What does this formula define?

- A. The WEP encryption algorithm
- B. Bandwidth capabilities of a channel
- C. Minimum signal strength for a data rate
- D. Maximum signal strength of a channel

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 90

During an initial install of a controller-based WLAN, the APs are not locating the WLAN controller. The controller is two router hops away from the nearest AP. DHCP is not used. When performing a packet trace, you see a DNS response code of 3 targeted at one of the APs.

What is the problem?

- A. The authentication to the DNS server failed
- B. The router is not forwarding packets to the DNS server
- C. The DNS server is not authoritative for the domain
- D. The controller host record has not been created in the DNS server

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 91

Which one of the these is the most important in the WLAN troubleshooting methodology among those listed?

- A. Talk to the end users about their experiences
- B. Obtain detailed -knowledge of the wireless vendors debug and logging options
- C. Observe the problem
- D. Interview the network manager about the issues being experienced

Answer: C

Explanation:

Observing the problem is the most important step in the WLAN troubleshooting methodology among those listed. This step involves capturing and analyzing the relevant data from the wireless network, such as packets, frames, spectrum, and performance metrics. Observing the problem helps to verify the existence and scope of the issue, identify the root cause and possible solutions, and validate the results of any actions taken. The other steps are also important, but they are not as critical as observing the problem.

NEW QUESTION # 92

How is the length of an AIFS calculated?

- A. $AIFSN * Slot\ Time + SIFS$
- B. $DIFS + SIFS + AIFSN$
- C. $SIFS * Slot\ Time + AIFSN$
- D. $SIFS + AIFS * Time\ Unit$

Answer: A

Explanation:

The length of an AIFS (Arbitration Interframe Space) is calculated by multiplying the AIFSN (Arbitration Interframe Space Number) by the Slot Time and adding the SIFS (Short Interframe Space). An AIFS is a variable interframe space introduced by 802.11e to help prioritize medium access for different Access Categories (ACs). An AC is a logical queue that corresponds to a QoS (Quality of Service) level for different types of traffic. Each AC has a different AIFSN value, which determines how long it has to wait before attempting to access the medium. A lower AIFSN value means a higher priority and a shorter waiting time. The Slot Time is a fixed value that depends on the PHY type and channel width. The SIFS is the shortest interframe space that is used for high-priority transmissions, such as ACKs or CTSS. The formula for calculating the AIFS length is: $AIFS = AIFSN * Slot\ Time + SIFS$. References: [Wireless Analysis Professional Study Guide CWAP-405], Chapter 7: QoS Analysis, page 194-195

NEW QUESTION # 93

Where, in a protocol analyzer, would you find an indication that a frame was transmitted as part of an A-MPDU?

- A. A-MPDU flag in the QoS Control Field
- B. The HT Operation Element
- C. The Aggregation flag in the Radio Tap Header
- D. A-MPDU flag in the Frame Control Field

Answer: C

Explanation:

In a protocol analyzer, you would find an indication that a frame was transmitted as part of an A-MPDU by looking at the Aggregation flag in the Radio Tap Header. The Radio Tap Header is a pseudo-header that is added by some wireless capture devices to provide additional information about the physical layer characteristics of a frame. The Aggregation flag is one of the fields in this header, and it indicates whether the frame belongs to an A-MPDU or not. If the flag is set to 1, it means that the frame is part of an A-MPDU; if it is set to 0, it means that the frame is not part of an A-MPDU.
