NEW QUESTION # 579

The European Union (EU) is an example of:

- A. country-to-country commerce.
- B. globalization.
- C. a trading bloc.
- D. a nongovernmental organization (NGO).

Answer: C

Explanation:

The European Union (EU) is a political and economic union of 27 member states that are located primarily in Europe. It is considered a trading bloc because:

- * Free Trade Area: The EU promotes free trade among its member countries by eliminating tariffs and other barriers to trade.
- * Common Market: It allows for the free movement of goods, services, capital, and people within the member states.
- * Economic and Political Integration: The EU adopts common policies on various matters, including trade, agriculture, and regional development, fostering economic and political integration among its members.

NEW QUESTION # 580

Which of the following factors typically is most important to a company that uses the chase production strategy when evaluating potential suppliers for a component?

- A. Quoted delivery time
- B. Supplier's agility
- C. Supplier's certification status
- D. Quoted total price

Answer: B

Explanation:

The chase production strategy aims to match production rates to demand by adjusting output to meet fluctuating demand levels. For a company using this strategy, a supplier's agility is paramount. Agility refers to the supplier's ability to rapidly respond to changes in demand, which is critical for maintaining production schedules and minimizing inventory costs. The supplier's certification status, quoted delivery time, and quoted total price are also important but secondary to the ability to quickly adjust to changing needs, ensuring a smooth and responsive supply chain.

NEW QUESTION # 581

Goods can enter a country, undergo further modification, and then be exported without paying customs duties via which of the following designations?

- A. Free trade zone (FTZ)
- B. Trading bloc
- C. Bonded warehouse
- D. Citizen zone

Answer: A

Explanation:

According to the APICS CSCP - Supply Chain Management Certification, a free trade zone (FTZ) is a designated area within a country where goods can enter, undergo further modification, and then be exported without paying customs duties or taxes. FTZs are used to encourage foreign trade and investment, reduce transportation costs, and improve supply chain efficiency.

NEW QUESTION # 582

A company's competitive advantage is product differentiation. The company has multiple new products with unique features targeted to various customer groups. It plans to sell its products via retail channels and online.

One of the activities the company should focus on first when determining inventory levels for each product is:

- A. setting price points for each product.
- B. planning equivalent inventory levels for each product.
- C. identifying and documenting each market segment's need.
- D. determining inventory levels at retail outlets.

Answer: C

Explanation:

When determining inventory levels for each product, especially for a company focusing on product differentiation with unique features targeted at various customer groups, the first activity should be identifying and documenting each market segment's needs. Understanding specific customer requirements and demand patterns is crucial for setting appropriate inventory levels that align with market expectations.

Planning equivalent inventory levels, setting price points, and determining inventory levels at retail outlets are subsequent steps that depend on the initial assessment of market needs.
