Salesforce Certified Platform User Experience Designer Sample Questions (Q41-Q46):

NEW QUESTION # 41

Service agents are complaining that the new custom object to track reservation has too many fields and is cluttering their layouts. All of the fields are necessary, but they would like to display fields and sections of the record as individual components on the page layout with visibility depending on where they are in the reservation process.

Which feature should be recommended?

- A. AppExchange Apps
- B. In-App Prompts
- C. Process Builder
- D. Dynamic Forms

Answer: D

Explanation:

Dynamic Forms is a feature that allows users to customize the layout of a record detail page by placing fields and sections anywhere on the page, and applying visibility rules to show or hide them based on certain criteria. Dynamic Forms can help service agents to create user-centric, intuitive, and dynamic layouts that display only the relevant fields and sections for the reservation process. Dynamic Forms can also improve page load times and reduce the need for multiple page layouts and record types. Dynamic Forms is currently available for custom objects and some standard objects in Lightning Experience¹. Reference:

NEW QUESTION # 42

Universal Containers' organization wide-defaults model is private for the Account object. A sales rep owns an opportunity record. Which level of access will the sales rep have to the related account record?

- A. No access
- B. Read/Create access
- C. Read-only access
- D. Read/Create/Edit access

Answer: C

Explanation:

A sales rep who owns an opportunity record will have read-only access to the related account record, if the organization-wide default for the Account object is private. This is because the opportunity owner is automatically granted read-only access to the account that the opportunity is associated with, regardless of who owns the account. This is called implicit sharing, and it is a built-in feature of Salesforce to ensure that users can access the data they need to do their work. However, the opportunity owner will not be able to create, edit, or delete the account record, unless they have other sharing mechanisms that grant them higher access, such as role hierarchy, sharing rules, manual sharing, or View All or Modify All permissions. NEW QUESTION # 43

A UX Designer is attending a sprint planning session as part of their team's Agile ceremonies.

Which methodology could the designer be asked to use to roughly estimate the work required for each item?

- A. Sprint Backlogging
- B. Prioritization Matrix
- C. T-shirt Sizing

Answer: C

Explanation:

The conceptual approach of desirable, feasible, and viable describes how to evaluate design solutions based on three criteria:

Desirable: The solution meets the needs and wants of the users and stakeholders.

Feasible: The solution can be implemented with the available resources and technology.

Viable: The solution can generate value and sustain itself in the market and environment. By incorporating human-centered design, CK is aiming to create design solutions that are desirable for its Sales team and customers, feasible with the Salesforce platform and tools, and viable for its business goals and strategy. [2]: UX Designer Certification Prep: Design Thinking, Unit 4: Prototype and Test T-shirt sizing is a methodology that can be used to roughly estimate the work required for each item in a sprint backlog. It involves assigning a size category (such as XS, S, M, L, XL) to each item based on its complexity, effort, and uncertainty. T-shirt sizing is a relative estimation technique that allows the team to compare items and prioritize them accordingly. It is also a quick and easy way to get a high-level overview of the scope of work without getting into too much detail. Reference:

NEW QUESTION # 44

An organization must be digitally accessible to enable social opportunity.

What are three core principles of Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG)?

Choose 3 answers

- A. Abundant
- B. Delightful
- C. Operable
- D. Robust
- E. Understandable

Answer: C,D,E

Explanation:

These are three of the four core principles of Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG), which provide a set of standards and best practices for making web content accessible to people with disabilities. The fourth principle is Perceivable, which means that the information and user interface components must be presented in ways that users can perceive. The principles are further divided into 13 guidelines and three levels of conformance (A, AA, and AAA). Reference:

NEW QUESTION # 45

Cloud Kicks is displaying Knowledge articles on a site with a colored background. A UX Designer is asked to evaluate Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) level AA for normal text.

What is the minimum color contrast ratio that would pass these guidelines?

- A. At least 3.0:1
- B. At least 7.0:1
- C. At least 4.5:1

Answer: C

Explanation:

According to the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) 2.1, the minimum color contrast ratio for normal text is 4.5:1. This means that the difference in brightness (luminance) between the text color and the background color should be at least 4.5 times. This ensures that the text is readable by people with moderately low vision, color deficiencies, or contrast sensitivity. The contrast ratio can be calculated using the formula:

$$\frac{L_2 + 0.05}{L_1 + 0.05}$$

where L1 is the relative luminance of the lighter color and L2 is the relative luminance of the darker color. The relative luminance is a value between 0 and 1, where 0 is black and 1 is white. The contrast ratio can range from 1:1 (white on white) to 21:1 (black on white).

The contrast ratio requirement for normal text is lower for larger text or bold text, as they are easier to read at lower contrast. For large text (18 point or 14 point bold), the minimum contrast ratio is 3:1. For graphics and user interface components, such as form input borders, the minimum contrast ratio is also 3:1. For level AAA conformance, the minimum contrast ratio for normal text is 7:1 and for large text is 4.5:1.

To evaluate the color contrast ratio of a site, there are various tools available, such as the Contrast Checker or the Contrast Ratio tool. These tools allow users to enter the text color and the background color and see the contrast ratio and whether it meets the WCAG guidelines. They also provide suggestions for improving the contrast ratio if needed.
