APA American Institute of Certified Planners Exam Sample Questions (Q115-Q120):

NEW QUESTION # 115

Scenario

You are a planner for a city planning department and you have an old friend who runs a planning consulting firm in the same city. Your friend submits a competitive proposal to work as a consultant for your department to you on Friday and while in your office, asks you to be her guest for dinner at a very fancy restaurant on Saturday evening. What might you do if you actually have no influence about awarding the contract?

Answer:

Explanation:

See the solution below

Explanation

You should worry about the appearance of a conflict of interest, even if the invitation for dinner is not intended to enhance your friend's chances of being awarded the contract (Rules of Conduct 5, 8, 19) Because you have no influence about the decision to award the contract, which would include having no professional contact with the decision-makers, you might have dinner with your friend, but it might be safer to postpone the dinner until after the contract has been awarded.

NEW QUESTION # 116

The following building heights (in feet) are given: 50, 60, 55, 40, 45, 55, 55, 45, 50, 40, 45, 45, 50, 50, 55, 55, 55, 60. What is the median value of the building heights, in feet, above?

- A. 50.0 ft.
- B. 56.9 ft.
- C. 50.5 ft.
- D. 55.0 ft.

Answer: A

Explanation:

To find the median value of the building heights, we first list the 18 values in ascending order: 40, 40, 45, 45, 45, 45, 50, 50, 50, 50, 55, 55, 55, 55, 55, 55, 60, 60. The median is the middle value in an ordered list. With 18 values (an even number), the median is the average of the 9th and 10th values. The 9th value is 50, and the 10th value is 50. Thus, the median is  $(50 + 50) / 2 = 50.0$  ft., matching option A. Option B (50.5 ft.) might result from incorrect averaging. Option C (55.0 ft.) is the mode, not the median. Option D (56.9 ft.) appears to be the mean (total sum 910 / 18 = 56.9), not the median. The APA's AICP Certification Exam Content Outline (2022), under "Research and Assessment Methods," includes basic statistical measures like the median, defined as "the middle value in an ordered dataset." The CPC Study Manual (2024) provides examples of median calculations, confirming this method.

NEW QUESTION # 117

One of your city's most diverse zip codes is located in the subarea targeted for the next neighborhood plan. To increase early involvement among the diverse population of this community, the planner should:

- A. Send a multi-lingual brochure to registered voters in the community about the planning process.

- B. Attend meetings of local organizations in advance of the planning process starting.
- C. Invite a diverse set of community leaders to a public hearing at city hall.
- D. Hold a charrette at the local middle school in the planning process.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Early involvement in a diverse community requires building trust and understanding the community's needs before formal planning activities begin. Attending meetings of local organizations (option D) allows planners to engage directly with residents, understand their concerns, and establish relationships, which is critical for meaningful participation. The AICP Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct (2022) emphasizes under Section A, Principle 1(f), that planners should "seek social justice by working to expand choice and opportunity for all persons, recognizing a special responsibility to plan for the needs of the disadvantaged and to promote racial and economic integration." This principle supports proactive engagement with diverse groups. Additionally, the APA's Planning for Equity Policy Guide (2019) recommends "engaging with community organizations early to build trust," especially in diverse areas, as a best practice for inclusive planning. Options A, B, and C, while useful later, are less effective for early involvement: charrettes (A) and public hearings (B) are typically later-stage activities, and brochures (C) lack the direct interaction needed to build trust. #### NEW QUESTION # 118

What is ETJ?

- A. Authority granted by some states to municipalities to impose zoning and subdivision regulations beyond their jurisdiction
- B. Decreasing the intensity of development
- C. Uses not permitted by right
- D. Hardship associated with a parcel not allowing for development of that parcel under the zoning regulations

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 119

Scenario

An oil company is interested in building a refinery on several thousand acres of waterfront property that the company owns. The general plan classifies this area as recreational and residential. The oil company files a re-zoning application to change this area to a heavy industrial classification. The planning director opposes the rezoning amendment stating that the scenic area is a valuable natural resource. Assume that the planning agency acted legally in all respects (proper notice, etc.). However, the county commissioners approve the amendment.

A group of residents who live near the proposed refinery site take the case to court and subpoena the planning director to testify. The planning director provides some information to the citizens' group as they prepare their case and also testifies truthfully in court about the value of the property to the community. Under the AICP Code of Ethics, all the following are true about the behavior of the planning director EXCEPT:

- A. The director was acting in an ethically responsible manner in trying to protect the integrity of the natural environment.
- B. The director should not have testified in court. The Code of Ethics requires planners to accept the decisions of their employers.
- C. The director served the public interest by providing information to citizens preparing their case.
- D. The director exhibited a concern for the long-range consequences of the proposed land use changes.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation

See Ethical Principle 1, Rules of Conduct 1 and 25. Members of AICP must comply with the law.
