Cisco Certified Design Expert (CCDE v3.0) Written Exam Sample Questions (Q411-Q416):

NEW QUESTION # 411

Company XYZ is designing their network using the three-layer hierarchical model. At which layer must the QoS design classify or mark the traffic?

- A. Access
- B. Distribution
- C. Collapsed core
- D. Core

Answer: A

Explanation:

* A (Access): QoS classification and marking should occur as close to the traffic source as possible—at the access layer—so that policies can be consistently applied throughout the network.

Other options explained:

* B/D: QoS policies at these layers rely on markings applied earlier.

* C: Collapsed core is simply core and distribution merged, but marking should still happen at access.

NEW QUESTION # 412

One of the approaches used in cloud bursting scenarios is distributed load-balanced, which operate the workloads in tandem between a public cloud and a data center. In which way can the characteristics of distributed load-balancing be described?

- A. Useful for large but temporary cloud deployments
- B. Simultaneously provisions cloud resources
- C. Useful for testing and proof-of-concept projects
- D. Usually uses cloud APIs for communication.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 413

What are two examples of design considerations when working with VXLAN? (Choose two.)

- A. A multicast enabled underlay helps to handle broadcast, unknown unicast, and multicast traffic in the VXLAN fabric.
- B. VTEP is a 24-bit field in the VXLAN header used to uniquely identify the VXLAN.
- C. A VXLAN tunnel end-point can be terminated on hardware or software.
- D. VNI is a 48-bit field in the VLAN header used to uniquely identify the VXLAN.
- E. EVPN control plane is a mandatory technology when you have VXLANs stretching Layer 2 connectivity over an intervening Layer 3 network.

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

VXLAN uses multicast in the underlay to handle BUM (Broadcast, Unknown unicast, Multicast) traffic efficiently when a control plane like EVPN is not deployed.

VXLAN Tunnel Endpoints (VTEPs) can be implemented in hardware (switches) or software (hypervisors, virtual switches), providing deployment flexibility.

NEW QUESTION # 414

Which three characteristics of the Single Tier and the Dual Tier Headend Architectures for DMVPN designs are true? (Choose three.)

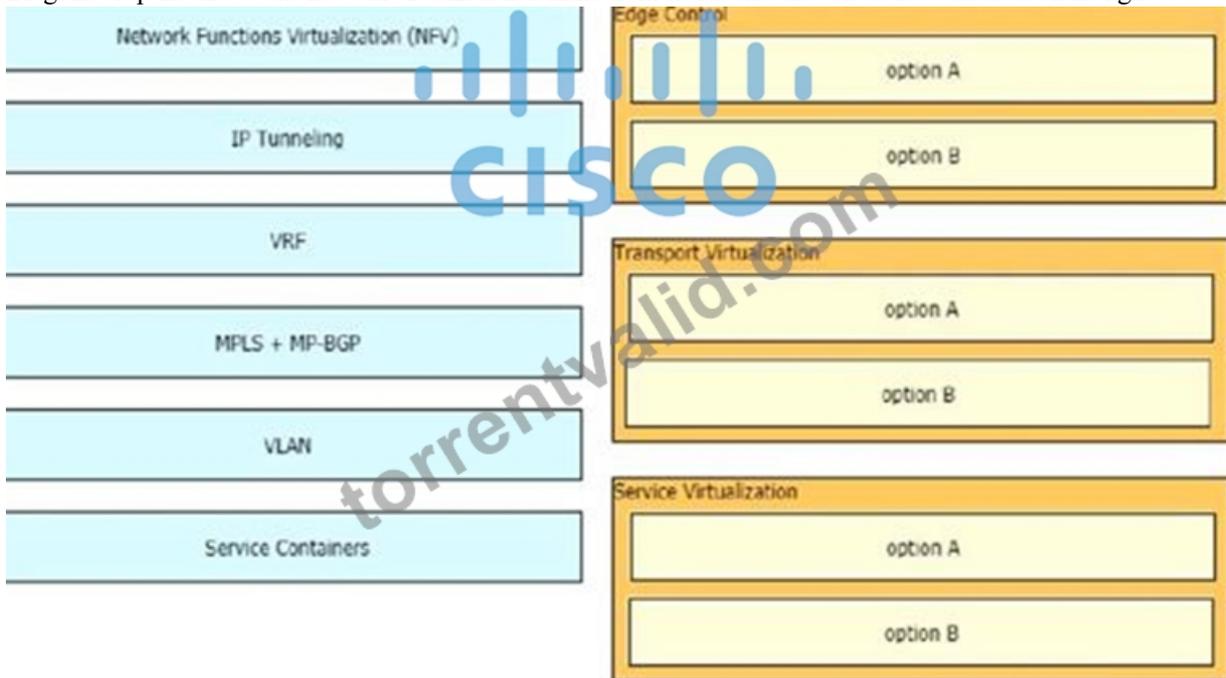

- A. A Single Tier Headend Architecture is required when using dual cloud topologies with spoke-to-spoke connectivity
- B. In a Single Tier Headend Architecture, the GRE tunnel endpoint and encryption endpoint functionalities are on the same router

- C. In a Single Tier Headend Architecture there is a single headend router per DMVPN cloud topology
- D. In a Dual Tier Headend Architecture, there are two different headend routers per DMVPN cloud for high availability purposes
- E. A Dual Tier Headend Architecture is required when using dual cloud topologies with spoke-to-spoke connectivity
- F. In a Dual Tier Headend Architecture, the GRE tunnel endpoint and encryption endpoint functionalities are on different routers

Answer: B,C,F

NEW QUESTION # 415

Drag and drop the end-to-end network virtualization elements from the left onto the correct network areas on the right.
