Salesforce Certified Identity and Access Management Architect Sample Questions (Q183-Q188):

NEW QUESTION # 183

Northern Trail Outfitters (NTO) uses Salesforce Experience Cloud sites (previously known as Customer Community) to provide a digital portal where customers can login using their Google account.

NTO would like to automatically create a case record for first time users logging into Salesforce Experience Cloud.

What should an Identity architect do to fulfill the requirement?

- A. Create an authentication provider for Social Login using Google and leverage standard registration handler.

- B. Implement a Just-in-Time handler class that has logic to create cases upon first login.
- C. Implement a login flow with a record create component for Case.
- D. Configure an authentication provider for Social Login using Google and a custom registration handler.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 184

Users logging into Salesforce are frequently prompted to verify their identity.

The identity architect is required to provide recommendations so that frequency of prompt verification can be reduced.

What should the identity architect recommend to meet the requirement?

- A. Implement multi-factor authentication for the Salesforce org.
- B. Set trusted IP ranges for the organization.
- C. Implement a single sign-on for Salesforce using an external identity provider.
- D. Implement 2FA authentication for the Salesforce org.

Answer: B

Explanation:

To reduce the frequency of prompt verification for users logging into Salesforce, the identity architect should recommend setting trusted IP ranges for the organization. Trusted IP ranges are IP addresses that are considered safe for logging in without any additional verification. Users who log in from trusted IP ranges do not need to activate their computer or use a verification code. Trusted IP ranges can improve user convenience and security. #### NEW QUESTION # 185

Universal Containers built a custom mobile app for their field reps to create orders in Salesforce. OAuth is used for authenticating mobile users. The app is built in such a way that when a user session expires after Initial login, a new access token is obtained automatically without forcing the user to log in again. While that improved the field reps' productivity, UC realized that they need a "logout" feature.

What should the logout function perform in this scenario, where user sessions are refreshed automatically?

- A. Invoke the revocation URL and pass the access token.
- B. Invoke the revocation URL and pass the refresh token.
- C. Clear out all the tokens to stop auto session refresh.
- D. Clear out the client Id to stop auto session refresh.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation

The refresh token is used to obtain a new access token when the previous one expires. To revoke the user session, the logout function should invoke the revocation URL and pass the refresh token as a parameter. This will invalidate both the refresh token and the access token, and prevent the user from accessing Salesforce without logging in again.

NEW QUESTION # 186

Refer to the exhibit.

Outfitters (NTO) is using Experience Cloud as an Identity for its application on Heroku. The application on Heroku should be able to handle two brands, Northern Trail Shoes and Northern Trail Shirts.

A user should select either of the two brands in Heroku before logging into the community. The app then performs Authorization using OAuth2.0 with the Salesforce Experience Cloud site.

NTO wants to make sure it renders login page images dynamically based on the user's brand preference selected in Heroku before Authorization.

What should an identity architect do to fulfill the above requirements?

- A. For each brand create different communities and redirect users to the appropriate community using a custom Login controller written in Apex.
- B. Authorize third-party service by sending authorization requests to the community-url/services/oauth2/authorize/expid_value.
- C. Create multiple login screens using Experience Builder and use Login Flows at runtime to route to different login screens.
- D. Authorize third-party service by sending authorization requests to the community-url/services/oauth2/authorize/cookie_value.

Answer: B

Explanation:

OAuth 2.0 is an open standard for authorization that allows a third-party application to obtain limited access to a protected resource on behalf of a user. To authorize a third-party service using OAuth 2.0 with the Salesforce Experience Cloud site, the identity architect should do the following steps:

* Create a connected app for the third-party service in Salesforce. A connected app is an application that integrates with Salesforce using APIs and standard protocols, such as SAML, OAuth, and OpenID Connect. To create a connected app, you need to provide the basic information, such as the app name, logo URL, contact email, and API name. You also need to enable OAuth and configure the OAuth settings, such as the callback URL, the scopes, and the policies.

* Authorize the third-party service by sending authorization requests to the community-url/services/oauth2/authorize/expid_value. This is a special endpoint that allows you to specify an experience ID (expid) as a query parameter in the authorization request. The experience ID is a unique identifier for each experience (community or site) in Salesforce. By using this endpoint, you can dynamically render the login page images based on the user's brand preference selected in the third-party service before authorization.

NEW QUESTION # 187

Universal Containers (UC) would like to enable SAML-BASED SSO for a Salesforce partner community. UC has an existing LDAP identity store and a third-party portal. They would like to use the existing portal as the primary site these users access, but also want to allow seamless access to the partner community. What SSO flow should an architect recommend?

- A. Sp-Initiated
- B. IDP-initiated
- C. User-Agent
- D. Web server

Answer: B
