1Z0-1042-24 – Oracle Cloud Infrastructure 2024 Application Integration Professional (Set – 01)

1. Which is NOT an advantage of using Oracle Integration Cloud (OIC) for creating application integrations?

- a. Prebuilt integrations
- b. Auto-association of Oracle SaaS applications
- c. User Choice of IDE for development
- d. Public/Private Cloud portability
- e. Data mapping recommendations

Correct Answer: c

2. Oracle Integration Cloud (OIC) Service is available in two editions, Standard and Enterprise. Which two OIC Enterprise Edition capabilities are ALSO available in OIC Standard Edition?

- a. File Server
- b. Visual Builder
- c. Integration Insight
- d. B2B Trading Partner Agreements
- e. Enterprise Application adapters (such as EBS, JDE, SAP and Siebel)
- f. Process Applications

Correct Answer: A, B

3. You are tasked with creating an Oracle Integration Cloud (OIC) integration flow that supports a B2B document exchange. When configuring the B2B action there are several capabilities as well as limitations. Which statement is NOT valid concerning OIC B2B capabilities?

- a. It is mandatory to perform validations on EDI documents for inbound translations; however, for outbound translations it is optional.
- b. A previously created Trading Partner Agreement is optional when configuring the inbound or outbound translation.
- c. You can customize standard Electronic Data Interchange (EDI) documents by adding new schema constructs or by editing existing constructs.

Correct Answer: A

4. As an integration developer, you are creating an integration in Oracle Integration Cloud (OIC) to transform a payload with multiple orders. You need to configure for-each action to loop through each order and process them individually. How do you correctly configure for the for-each action to loop through each order and process them individually? a. Select the Parallel Processing option and set the number of threads to the number of orders. b. Select the Group By option and group the orders by the order number. c. Select the Repeating

Oracle Cloud Infrastructure 2024 Application Integration Professional Sample Questions (Q82-Q87):

NEW QUESTION # 82

In Oracle Integration (OIC) you can notify users by email with hourly or daily reports about system status as well as service alerts. Which is NOT an alert type that can be configured in these notification emails?

- A. The email quota has exceeded the threshold.
- B. One or more connectivity agents are unavailable.
- C. Failed instances exceeding a specified percentage.
- D. Certificates that are set to expire within seven days.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation:

Notifications:

* C:False-not a standard alert.

NEW QUESTION # 83

Which is NOT an advantage of using Oracle Integration Cloud (OIC) for creating application integrations?

- A. Auto-association of Oracle SaaS applications
- B. Public/Private Cloud portability
- C. Data mapping recommendations
- D. Prebuilt integrations
- E. User Choice of IDE for development

Answer: E

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation:

Oracle Integration Cloud (OIC) is a platform designed to simplify and accelerate the creation of integrations between various applications, whether cloud-based or on-premises. Its key advantages include:

* Prebuilt integrations (A):OIC provides a library of prebuilt adapters and integration recipes, reducing development time.

* Auto-association of Oracle SaaS applications (B):OIC seamlessly integrates with Oracle SaaS applications (e.g., HCM, ERP) via adapters, often auto-configuring connection details.

* Public/Private Cloud portability (D):OIC supports hybrid integrations, connecting public cloud services with private/on-premises systems via the Connectivity Agent.

* Data mapping recommendations (E):The OIC mapper provides intelligent suggestions to simplify data transformation between source and target schemas.

However, User Choice of IDE for development (C) is not an advantage because OIC uses a browser-based, low-code design environment rather than offering a choice of external Integrated Development Environments (IDEs) like Eclipse or IntelliJ.

Development is confined to OIC's built-in designer, which prioritizes simplicity over flexibility in tooling. This limitation distinguishes it from platforms where developers can select their preferred IDE.

NEW QUESTION # 84

Your design of an Asynchronous Oracle Integration Cloud (OIC) integration flow includes the requirement for additional processing logic that is conditionally based on the results returned to the integration instance from earlier external service invocations. You decide to leverage the switch action to facilitate this implementation. Which is a valid consideration concerning the configuration and capabilities of the switch action?

- A. Nested Switch actions are not supported and, therefore, you may need to create more complex conditional expressions, if necessary.
- B. The switch action must include an otherwise branch.
- C. Data objects returned from actions within a branch of a switch action are not visible in the mainflow of the integration after the switch action.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation:

The Switch Action in OIC enables conditional logic:

* Option A: OIC does not support nested Switch actions within a single flow, requiring developers to use complex expressions or multiple sequential switches. This limitation is valid.

* Option B: Data objects from a branch remain accessible in the main flow via variables, making this statement invalid.

* Option C: An "otherwise" branch is optional, not mandatory, allowing flexibility in design.

A's restriction shapes how conditional logic is implemented in asynchronous flows.

NEW QUESTION # 85

In addition to REST trigger connection-based integrations, what other type of integration can you run from the Test page in Oracle Integration?

- A. Event pattern integrations
- B. File trigger connection-based integrations
- C. Schedule pattern integrations
- D. SOAP trigger connection-based integrations

Answer: D

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation:

Test Page:

* C: True-SOAP triggers testable.

NEW QUESTION # 86

A company has been using Oracle Integration (OIC) to integrate its business applications, such as Oracle HCM Cloud, Oracle ERP Cloud, and Salesforce. However, they are planning to migrate all integration workloads from their current OIC instance to a new instance in a different region to comply with data sovereignty regulations. Which task is NOT required when you need to clone archives of design-time metadata to export and import between Oracle Integration instances?

- A. Construct the storage URL for an Object Storage bucket.
- B. Create a dynamic group.
- C. Create export and import jobs.
- D. Enable public visibility for the Object Storage bucket.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation:

Migrating OIC integrations across instances for data sovereignty involves exporting and importing design-time metadata (e.g., integrations, connections) using Oracle Cloud Infrastructure (OCI) Object Storage. Let's dissect each task with exhaustive detail:

* Option A: Enable public visibility for the Object Storage bucket.

* Not Required (Answer): Public visibility is unnecessary and insecure for this process. OIC export /import jobs use pre-authenticated requests or IAM policies to access a private bucket, ensuring data security. Making the bucket public exposes sensitive integration artifacts (e.g., connection details) to unauthorized access, violating sovereignty and security best practices. For example, a bucket storing HR integration metadata should remain private, accessible only via OIC credentials.

* Option B: Create a dynamic group.

* Required: A dynamic group in OCI groups OIC instances, allowing them to access resources like Object Storage via IAM policies. For instance, you'd define a rule like ALL {instance.

compartment.id = 'ocidl.compartment...'} to include your OIC instances, granting them bucket access without static credentials.

This is a foundational step for secure automation.

* Option C: Create export and import jobs.

* Required: In the OIC console, you explicitly create export jobs to generate archive files (IAR /PAR) and import jobs to ingest them into the target instance. For example, exporting an "HCM- to-Salesforce" package creates a PAR file, which the import job then processes in the new region.

This is the core mechanism of migration.

* Option D: Construct the storage URL for an Object Storage bucket.

* Required: The OIC export/import process needs the bucket's URL (e.g., <https://objectstorage.us-ashburn-1.oraclecloud.com/n/namespace/b/bucket/o/>) to locate and store/retrieve archives. You construct this in the OCI console or via CLI, ensuring OIC knows where to read/write files.

Why A is the answer: Public visibility isn't part of the standard workflow and contradicts security principles, especially for regulated data. Private access via IAM and pre-authenticated URLs suffices.

Edge Case: If a third-party tool needed public access (unlikely), it'd still be a non-standard, risky workaround.

Use Case Example: Migrating a private bucket of integrations from US to EU region uses B, C, D, but not A.
