EPIC CEE: Bridges Interfaces Application Essentials Exam (2026 Version) Sample Questions (Q41-Q46):

NEW QUESTION # 41

Which information is available in an interface monitor? (SELECT ALL THAT APPLY)

- A. Number of skipped messages
- B. Communication status
- C. List of errors logged today
- D. Number of messages in the Control Queue

Answer: A,B,C,D

Explanation:

The Interface Monitor is the primary dashboard for interface administrators. It provides a comprehensive overview of health, including whether the interface is connected (Communication status), the volume of traffic waiting to be processed (Control Queue), any messages that were manually bypassed (skipped messages), and a summary of errors encountered during the day.

NEW QUESTION # 42

A new error started logging to your interface and your team decides that this error should be worked on an existing workqueue. You properly update the workqueue rule to include the new error. Which of the following will your workqueue contain moving forward if you take no other actions? (SELECT ALL THAT APPLY)

- A. Future occurrences of the new error, and none of the previous occurrences
- B. All errors previously added to the workqueue
- C. All occurrences of the new error, past and future
- D. No occurrences of the new error

Answer: A,B

NEW QUESTION # 43

Consider a new Epic master file ZAI, which holds records representing the intelligent robots working in a futuristic hospital. Each ZAI record has an item defining the type of robot. While the ZAI master file typically has thousands of robot records, there are only a dozen robot types. Which mapping method would be used to send ZAI record-level identifiers?

- A. Message Structure Override
- B. HL7 Processing ID
- C. Identity
- D. Translation Tables

Answer: C

Explanation:

Even in a fictional scenario, the rule remains: if you are mapping record-level identifiers (the unique ID for each individual robot record), you must use Identity . Translation Tables would only be appropriate for the "robot types" (since there are only a dozen), but for the thousands of individual robot records themselves, Identity provides the necessary cross-referencing between Epic and external systems.

NEW QUESTION # 44

Table translations can be either case sensitive or not case sensitive.

- A. True
- B. False

Answer: A

Explanation:

Bridges provides a configuration toggle for Case Sensitivity within translation tables. This is crucial because some external systems might send values like "M" and "m" interchangeably, while others might use case to distinguish between two different codes. Setting this correctly ensures that the interface accurately matches the incoming string to the intended internal value.

NEW QUESTION # 45

Which of the following messages cannot be retriggered? (SELECT ALL THAT APPLY)

- A. Messages loaded from a flat file
- B. Incoming messages
- C. Messages retriggered from other messages
- D. Messages resubmitted from other messages

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

Retriggering is specifically an outgoing interface action. Therefore, Incoming messages (Option D) cannot be retriggered. Additionally, to maintain a clear audit trail and prevent logic errors, Bridges does not allow you to retrigger a message that was already the result of a retrigger (Option A).
