NEW QUESTION # 475

What are benefits of using Snowpark with Snowflake? (Select TWO).

- A. Snowpark does not require that a separate cluster be running outside of Snowflake.
- B. Snowpark executes as much work as possible in the source databases for all operations including User-Defined Functions

(UDFs).

- C. Snowpark uses a Spark engine to generate optimized SQL query plans.
- D. Snowpark automatically sets up Spark within Snowflake virtual warehouses.
- E. Snowpark allows users to run existing Spark code on virtual warehouses without the need to reconfigure the code.

Answer: A,E

Explanation:

Snowpark is designed to bring the data programmability to Snowflake, enabling developers to write code in familiar languages like Scala, Java, and Python. It allows for the execution of these codes directly within Snowflake's virtual warehouses, eliminating the need for a separate cluster. Additionally, Snowpark's compatibility with Spark allows users to leverage their existing Spark code with minimal changes.

NEW QUESTION # 476

A single user of a virtual warehouse has set the warehouse to auto-resume and auto-suspend after 10 minutes. The warehouse is currently suspended and the user performs the following actions:

1. Runs a query that takes 3 minutes to complete
 2. Leaves for 15 minutes
 3. Returns and runs a query that takes 10 seconds to complete
 4. Manually suspends the warehouse as soon as the last query was completed
- When the user returns, how much billable compute time will have been consumed?

- A. 10 minutes
- B. 24 minutes
- C. 4 minutes
- D. 14 minutes

Answer: D

Explanation:

The billable compute time includes the time the warehouse is running queries plus the auto-suspend time after the last query if the warehouse is not manually suspended. In this scenario, the warehouse runs for 3 minutes, suspends after 10 minutes of inactivity, resumes for a 10-second query, and then is manually suspended. The total billable time is the sum of the initial 3 minutes, the 10 minutes of auto-suspend time, and the brief period for the 10-second query, which is rounded up to the next full minute due to Snowflake's billing practices. NEW QUESTION # 477

What does the TableScan operator represent in the Query Profile?

- A. The access to a single table
- B. The records generated using the TABLE (GENERATOR (...)) construct
- C. The access to data stored in stage objects
- D. The list of values provided with the VALUES clause

Answer: A

Explanation:

In the Query Profile of Snowflake, the TableScan operator represents the access to a single table. This operator indicates that the query execution involved reading data from a table stored in Snowflake. TableScan is a fundamental operation in query execution plans, showing how the database engine retrieves data directly from tables as part of processing a query.

NEW QUESTION # 478

Which Snowflake function will parse a JSON-null into a SQL-null?

- A. STRIP NULL VALUE
- B. TO_VARCHAR

- C. TO_CHAR
- D. TO_VARIANT

Answer: A

Explanation:

The STRIP_NULL_VALUE function in Snowflake is used to convert a JSON null value into a SQL NULL value1.

NEW QUESTION # 479

What tasks can be completed using the copy command? (Select TWO)

- A. Columns can be joined with an existing table
- B. Data can be loaded without the need to spin up a virtual warehouse
- C. Columns can be omitted
- D. Columns can be aggregated
- E. Columns can be reordered

Answer: C,E

Explanation:

The COPY command in Snowflake allows for the reordering of columns as they are loaded into a table, and it also permits the omission of columns from the source file during the load process. This provides flexibility in handling the schema of the data being ingested. References: [COF-C02] SnowPro Core Certification Exam Study Guide
