ASET Ethics Examination-ASET Professional Practice Exam (PPE) Sample Questions (Q31-Q36):

NEW QUESTION # 31

While doing some research, a regulated member of ASET discovers two similar source documents authored by different professionals within the organization. A member of ASET published the later report and appears to have reproduced significant content from the older report and presented it as original work. Which of the following is the first step the member should take in this situation?

- A. Contact the member who authored the second report to discuss the similarities.
- B. Report the member to ASET for unethical conduct in copying the earlier report.
- C. Notify the department manager that the member copied the earlier report.
- D. Contact the author of the original report to discuss the similarities.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Plagiarism-presenting another professional's work, data, or intellectual property as one's own without proper attribution-is a severe violation of professional integrity and the ASET Code of Ethics.

However, professional courtesy and ethical due process dictate how such discoveries should be handled.

Before escalating the issue to management or filing a formal complaint with ASET, the observing member must ascertain the facts. It is possible (though perhaps unlikely) that there is a legitimate explanation, such as a co-authorship agreement, an administrative error in publishing, or an internal template policy. The correct first step is to approach the individual who authored the second (suspected plagiarized) report directly and privately to discuss the similarities. This professional confrontation gives the individual an opportunity to explain the situation or voluntarily correct the ethical breach by issuing a retraction or proper citation. If the author becomes defensive, denies obvious plagiarism, or refuses to correct the issue, the observing member must then escalate the matter to management or ASET.

NEW QUESTION # 32

The ASET Practice Review Board shall, on its own initiative or at the request of the ASET Council, inquire into which of the following?

- A. The examination of non-regulated members
- B. The practice of professional technologists
- C. The assessment of engineering practice in Alberta
- D. The evaluation of desirable standards of competence of regulated members

Answer: D

Explanation:

The Practice Review Board (PRB) is a critical statutory committee established under the Engineering and Geoscience Professions Act (EGPA) to maintain the overall quality and standards of the profession.

Unlike the Investigative or Discipline Committees, which deal with specific complaints of misconduct against individual members, the PRB has a broader, more systemic mandate. One of its primary legal functions is to continuously evaluate, develop, and maintain the desirable standards of competence for all regulated members. The PRB conducts general reviews of practice trends, manages the Continuing Professional Development (CPD) program, and can proactively audit the practices of members to ensure they are keeping their skills current and adhering to the latest technical and ethical standards. It acts as a proactive quality-assurance mechanism for the profession. It does not examine non-regulated individuals, nor does it broadly assess the entire engineering practice in Alberta (which is APEGA's domain), but rather focuses specifically on evaluating and enforcing the standards of competence for ASET's own regulated membership.

NEW QUESTION # 33

Which of the following best describes the role of the ASET Investigative Committee?

- A. To mediate complaints against ASET members.
- B. To review the practice of ASET members.

- C. To conduct disciplinary hearings in relation to complaints.
- D. To investigate complaints against ASET members.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Under the Engineering and Geoscience Professions Act (EGPA), the disciplinary process for professional regulatory organizations is carefully separated into distinct phases to ensure fairness, objectivity, and natural justice. When the Registrar receives a formal written complaint regarding the conduct or competence of a regulated member, the matter is referred to the Investigative Committee. The primary role of the Investigative Committee is strictly to gather facts and evidence. They conduct interviews, review documents, and assess whether there is sufficient evidence of unskilled practice or unprofessional conduct to warrant sending the matter to a formal hearing. The Investigative Committee does not decide guilt, nor do they hand down penalties; they act essentially as a grand jury to determine if the complaint has merit. If they find sufficient evidence, they forward the case to the Discipline Committee, which is a separate body that actually conducts the formal, trial-like hearing and determines disciplinary outcomes. Thus, their sole statutory function is to investigate complaints.

NEW QUESTION # 34

In order to be considered for regulated membership, an applicant must have a minimum of how many years of experience?

- A. 3 years
- B. 1 year
- C. 4 years
- D. 2 years

Answer: D

Explanation:

Registration as a Certified Engineering Technologist (C.E.T.) or Certified Technician (C.Tech.) through ASET is not based on academic credentials alone. To ensure that members possess the practical competency required to protect the public and operate safely in real-world environments, ASET mandates a strict experiential requirement. Under ASET's certification regulations, an applicant must possess a minimum of two (2) years of acceptable, verifiable technical experience in their specific discipline of practice. This experience must be acquired after the completion of at least half of their academic program and is typically evaluated by a Board of Examiners to ensure it meets the required level of complexity, independent judgment, and application of technical principles. This two-year minimum ensures that newly regulated members have moved beyond theoretical academic knowledge and have successfully demonstrated their ability to perform competently and ethically under the supervision of senior professionals before being granted the right to use protected professional designations.

Here is the fourth batch of 10 questions (Questions 31 to 40), carefully reviewed, corrected, and formatted with comprehensive explanations based on the ASET Code of Ethics, the Engineering and Geoscience Professions Act (EGPA), and professional practice standards.

NEW QUESTION # 35

Which of the following documents should be stamped or sealed by a qualified professional?

- A. Final drawings, specifications, plans, and similar documents
- B. Recommended but not required on any professional documentation
- C. Only professional documents for projects that affect public safety
- D. All professional documents prepared by the organization

Answer: A

Explanation:

The professional stamp or seal is a legal mark of reliance. When a regulated professional (such as a P. Tech., or an engineer) affixes their seal to a document, they are publicly certifying that the work was prepared by them or under their direct supervision, that it meets all applicable codes and technical standards, and that they accept full professional and legal responsibility for its contents. Consequently, a seal must only be applied to final documents—such as final drawings, specifications, technical plans, and formal engineering reports—that are intended to be relied upon by others (clients, contractors, or municipalities) for construction, manufacturing, or significant decision-making. Seals should not be applied to preliminary drafts, internal memos, or non-technical business documents (Option A), nor is their use merely "recommended" (Option D); it is legally mandated for final technical works.

Furthermore, their use is not strictly limited to public safety projects (Option C), but to any finalized technical design within the professional's authorized scope of practice.
