Juniper Security, Associate (JNCIA-SEC) Sample Questions (Q86-Q91):

NEW QUESTION # 86

What must also be enabled when using source NAT if the address pool is in the same subnet as the interface?

- A. destination NAT
- B. proxy ARP
- C. dynamic DNS
- D. static NAT

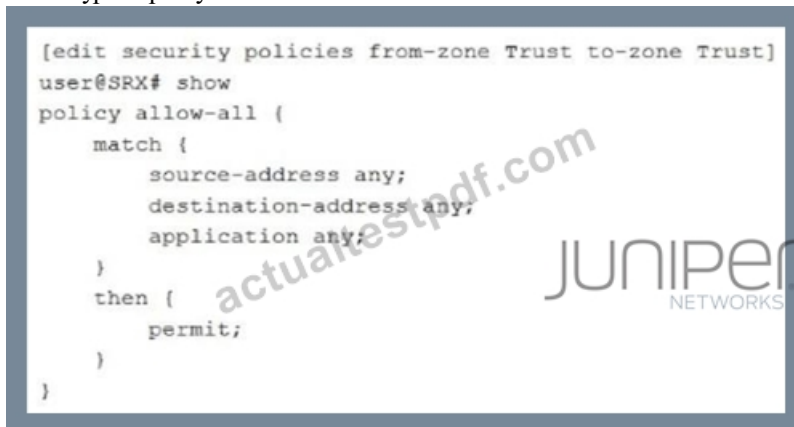

Answer: B

Explanation:

When the source NAT address pool belongs to the same subnet as the egress interface, the SRX must respond to ARP requests for those translated IPs. Enabling proxy ARP allows the firewall to reply on behalf of those NAT pool addresses, ensuring proper packet delivery.

NEW QUESTION # 87

Which type of policy is shown in the exhibit?

```
[edit security policies from-zone Trust to-zone Trust]
user@SRX# show policy allow-all { match {
    source-address any;
    destination-address any;
    application any;
  }
  then { permit;
  }
}
```

- A. global policy
- B. inter-zone policy
- C. intra-zone policy
- D. default policy

Answer: C

Explanation:

The policy is defined from-zone Trust to-zone Trust, which means traffic is controlled within the same security zone, making it an intra-zone policy.

NEW QUESTION # 88

What is the purpose of a feature profile in a UTM configuration?

- A. It defines an object list.
- B. It applies a UTM feature to protocol traffic.
- C. It applies a UTM feature to a security policy.
- D. It defines the operation of a specific UTM feature.

Answer: D

Explanation:

A feature profile in a UTM (Unified Threat Management) configuration defines how a specific UTM feature should operate. Examples include:

- * Anantivirus feature profilethat specifies the type of scanning to perform (streaming or full file-based).
- * Aweb filtering feature profilethat defines filtering methods, categories, and actions.
- * Anantispam profilethat defines how spam detection and actions are performed.

Feature profiles do not directly apply to traffic or policies. Instead, they are referenced inside a UTM policy, and then that policy is applied to a security policy.

Therefore, a feature profile's purpose is to define the operation of a specific UTM feature.

NEW QUESTION # 89

You need to ensure that the security policy is configured correctly for a flow with both source NAT and destination NAT involved. In this scenario, which two match conditions are valid for source and destination addresses?

(Choose two.)

- A. post-NAT source address
- B. post-NAT destination address
- C. pre-NAT destination address
- D. pre-NAT source address

Answer: B,D

Explanation:

When both source NAT and destination NAT are used, the security policy match is based on:

- The pre-NAT source address, because NAT translation hasn't yet occurred for the source when policy lookup starts.
- The post-NAT destination address, because destination NAT occurs before policy evaluation in the packet flow.

NEW QUESTION # 90

Which two statements are correct about a Juniper Routing Engine? (Choose two.)

- A. The Routing Engine manages the Packet Forwarding Engine.
- B. The Routing Engine creates the routing and switching tables.
- C. The Routing Engine is responsible for forwarding transit traffic.
- D. The Routing Engine is managed by the Packet Forwarding Engine.

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

The Routing Engine (RE) manages the Packet Forwarding Engine (PFE) by installing forwarding tables and controlling its operation. The Routing Engine is responsible for creating the routing and switching tables, handling control- plane functions such as routing protocols, system management, and configuration.
