NEW QUESTION # 107

- A. Combine teams to increase velocity
- B. Change the scope
- C. Recognize the team with the highest velocity
- D. Hire new people
- E. Change the business priorities

Answer: B,E

NEW QUESTION # 108

When should Agile Teams make time for innovation?

- A. At a consistent time each day during the Iteration
- B. Continuously throughout the Program Increment
- C. When there are Enabler Stories in the Backlog

Answer: B

Explanation:

According to the SAFe framework, Agile Teams should allocate time for innovation continuously throughout the Program Increment. This is facilitated through the Innovation and Planning (IP) Iteration, which is a dedicated iteration that occurs every Program Increment (PI). It provides an estimating buffer for meeting PI Objectives and dedicated time for innovation, continuing education, PI Planning, and Inspect and Adapt (I&A) events¹.

The IP Iteration serves as a regular, cadence-based opportunity for teams to engage in innovation and learning activities that are difficult to fit into a continuous, incremental value delivery pattern. This iteration allows for activities such as hackathons, where individuals can work on innovative ideas outside the usual constraints of their regular backlog and team construct. The outcomes from these hackathons often make their way into the ART Backlogs, driving innovations that benefit the business¹.

Furthermore, dedicating time to PI events during the IP Iteration ensures that the velocity of regular iterations is not reduced. This approach also enhances the predictability of PI performance and provides a buffer for meeting PI objectives¹.

NEW QUESTION # 109

During PI Planning, who owns the planning of Stories into Iterations?

- A. Agile Teams
- B. Scrum Master
- C. Product Management
- D. System Architect

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 110

What is one risk of eliminating an Innovation and Planning (IP) Iteration?

- A. Bottlenecks can be hard to identify and resolve
- B. Technical debt can grow uncontrollably
- C. Teams have no time for fixing bugs
- D. Delivery can be blocked

Answer: B

Explanation:

Eliminating an Innovation and Planning (IP) Iteration can lead to uncontrollable growth in technical debt.

The IP Iteration in SAFe provides a buffer for managing risks and unforeseen delays, ensuring a consistent and predictable delivery schedule. It also offers dedicated time for innovation, continuing education, PI Planning, and Inspect and Adapt (I&A) events¹.

Without this iteration, teams may miss out on opportunities for innovation due to the constant pressure of delivery, which can result in an accumulation of technical debt over time. This is because the focus remains on immediate feature delivery without the allocated time to address underlying issues or invest in system improvements².

NEW QUESTION # 111

When estimating stories, what is the Scrum Master's key responsibility?

- A. Ensure everyone on the team participates
- B. Limit discussion to manage timeboxes
- C. Provide information about customer needs
- D. Ensure the team gives accurate estimates

Answer: A

Explanation:

The Scrum Master's key responsibility when estimating stories is to ensure that everyone on the team participates in the process.

This is aligned with the Scrum Master's role as a facilitator and servant leader, who must encourage full team engagement to leverage the collective expertise and perspectives of all team members. This helps in creating more accurate and reliable estimates and promotes team ownership of the tasks.

Here's a detailed breakdown of the Scrum Master's role during story estimation:

* Facilitation: The Scrum Master facilitates the estimation process, ensuring that it is collaborative and that every team member has the opportunity to contribute¹.

* Encouraging Participation: It is crucial that all team members participate in the estimation to provide diverse insights and reach a consensus on the effort required for each story¹.

* Coaching: The Scrum Master also coaches the team in estimation techniques and helps them understand the value of collective estimation as part of the Agile process².

* Maintaining Agile Principles: They guide the team in adhering to Agile principles during the estimation process, ensuring that the team remains focused on delivering value efficiently².

The other options (A, C, D) are not the primary responsibilities of the Scrum Master during story estimation. While the Scrum Master may support the team in achieving accurate estimates and managing time effectively, their key responsibility is to ensure active participation from all team members, which is fundamental to the Agile methodology and the Scrum framework³.
