Salesforce Certified Data Architect Sample Questions (Q112-Q117):

NEW QUESTION # 112

Company S was recently acquired by Company T. As part of the acquisition, all of the data for the Company S's Salesforce instance (source) must be migrated into the Company T's Salesforce instance (target). Company S has 6 million Case records.

An Architect has been tasked with optimizing the data load time.

What should the Architect consider to achieve this goal?

- A. Directly leverage Salesforce-to-Salesforce functionality to load Case data.
- B. Pre-process the data, then use Data Loader with SOAP API to upsert with zip compression enabled.
- C. Load the data in multiple sets using Bulk API parallel processes.
- D. Utilize the Salesforce Org Migration Tool from the Setup Data Management menu.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Pre-processing the data means transforming and cleansing the data before loading it into Salesforce. This can reduce the errors and conflicts that might occur during the data load. Using Data Loader with SOAP API to upsert with zip compression enabled can also improve the performance and efficiency of the data load by reducing the network bandwidth and avoiding duplication

NEW QUESTION # 113

A company has 12 million records, and a nightly integration queries these records.

Which two areas should a Data Architect investigate during troubleshooting if queries are timing out? (Choose two.)

- A. Modify the integration users' profile to have View All Data.
- B. Create custom indexes on the fields used in the filter criteria.
- C. Create a formula field instead of having multiple filter criteria.
- D. Make sure the query doesn't contain NULL in any filter criteria.

Answer: B,D

Explanation:

Making sure the query does not contain NULL in any filter criteria can avoid full table scans and leverage indexes more efficiently. Queries with NULL filters are not selective and can cause performance issues.

Creating custom indexes on the fields used in the filter criteria can also enhance the query performance by reducing the number of records to scan.

NEW QUESTION # 114

Universal Containers (UC) is migrating from a legacy system to Salesforce CRM, UC is concerned about the quality of data being entered by users and through external integrations.

Which two solutions should a data architect recommend to mitigate data quality issues?

- A. Leverage picklist and lookup fields where possible
- B. Leverage third-party- AppExchange tools
- C. Leverage validation rules and workflows.
- D. Leverage Apex to validate the format of data being entered via a mobile device.

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

According to the Salesforce documentation¹, data quality is the measure of how well the data in Salesforce meets the expectations and requirements of the users and stakeholders. Data quality can be affected by various factors, such as data entry errors, data duplication, data inconsistency, data incompleteness, data timeliness, etc. To mitigate data quality issues, some of the recommended solutions are:

Leverage picklist and lookup fields where possible (option A). This means using fields that restrict the values or references that can be entered by the users or integrations. This can help reduce data entry errors, enforce data consistency, and improve data accuracy.

Leverage validation rules and workflows (option C). This means using features that allow defining rules and criteria to validate the data that is entered or updated by the users or integrations. This can help prevent invalid or incorrect data from being saved, and trigger actions or alerts to correct or improve the data.

Leveraging Apex to validate the format of data being entered via a mobile device (option B) is not a good solution, as it can be complex, costly, and difficult to maintain. It is better to use standard features or declarative tools that can handle data validation more effectively. Leveraging third-party AppExchange tools (option D) is also not a good solution, as it can incur additional costs and dependencies. It is better to use native Salesforce features or custom solutions that can handle data quality more efficiently.

NEW QUESTION # 115

Due to security requirements, Universal Containers needs to capture specific user actions, such as login, logout, file attachment download, package install, etc. What is the recommended approach for defining a solution for this requirement?

- A. Use a custom object and trigger to capture changes.
- B. Use Event Monitoring to capture these changes.
- C. Use a field audit trail to capture field changes.
- D. Use a third-party AppExchange app to capture changes.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 116

UC is rolling out Sales App globally to bring sales teams together on one platform. UC expects millions of opportunities and accounts to be created and is concerned about the performance of the application.

Which 3 recommendations should the data architect make to avoid the data skew? Choose 3 answers.

- A. Limit assigning one user 10000 records ownership.
- B. Assign 10000 opportunities to one account.
- C. Use picklist fields rather than lookup to custom object.
- D. Limit associating 10000 records looking up to same records.
- E. Limit associating 10000 opportunities to one account.

Answer: A,E
