Cisco Certified Support Technician (CCST) Cybersecurity Sample Questions (Q195-Q200):

NEW QUESTION # 195

What are botnets?

- A. An attack that manipulates individuals into revealing sensitive information or performing certain actions.
- B. A network of compromised computers controlled by a central entity to carry out malicious activities.
- C. A form of cyber attack that attempts to gain unauthorized access to a network.
- D. A software program that is designed to damage, disrupt, or gain unauthorized access to a computer system.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Botnets are networks of compromised computers that are controlled by a central entity, often referred to as a botmaster. These compromised computers, also known as bots or zombies, are typically infected with malware and can be used to carry out various malicious activities, such as launching DDoS attacks, sending spam emails, or stealing sensitive information.

NEW QUESTION # 196

Which of the following is an example of a detective control?

- A. Security information and event management (SIEM) system
- B. Access control list (ACL)
- C. Encryption
- D. Patch management

Answer: A

Explanation:

A SIEM system is a detective control that collects and analyzes security event logs from various sources to identify and detect potential security incidents. It provides real-time monitoring and alerts for suspicious activities, enabling organizations to identify and respond to security events effectively.

NEW QUESTION # 197

What is vishing?

- A. A type of phishing attack that targets specific individuals or organizations.
- B. A physical attack where an unauthorized person gains entry to a restricted area by following closely behind an authorized person.
- C. A cyber attack where an attacker manipulates and deceives an individual to reveal sensitive information.
- D. A form of social engineering attack that uses voice or telephone calls to trick victims into revealing sensitive information.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Vishing, which stands for voice phishing, involves using voice or telephone calls to deceive and manipulate individuals into revealing sensitive information. The attacker may pretend to be a legitimate entity, such as a bank representative, and persuade the victim to provide personal or financial details over the phone. Vishing exploits the trust people often have in phone calls and can be used in combination with other attacks.

NEW QUESTION # 198

Which of the following tools is primarily used for analyzing network packets?

- A. Norton Antivirus
- B. Oracle Database
- C. Cisco AnyConnect
- D. Wireshark

Answer: D

Explanation:

Wireshark is a popular open-source tool used for network packet analysis and protocol troubleshooting. It allows users to capture, examine, and analyze network packets in real-time. Wireshark provides detailed information about the different protocols, traffic patterns, and network anomalies, assisting cybersecurity professionals in diagnosing network issues, identifying security vulnerabilities, and detecting potential attacks.

NEW QUESTION # 199

Which of the following is a key principle of access management?

- A. Providing open and unrestricted access to all users
- B. Granting access based solely on job titles
- C. Using the same access controls for all types of resources
- D. Implementing least privilege and need-to-know principles

Answer: D

Explanation:

Access management is the process of controlling and managing user access to resources based on the principles of least privilege and need-to-know. The principle of least privilege ensures that users are only granted the minimum level of access necessary to perform their specific tasks, reducing the risk of unauthorized access or privilege escalation. The need-to-know principle restricts access to sensitive information only to authorized individuals who require it for their job responsibilities. These principles contribute to a strong access control system by ensuring that access is only granted to those who genuinely need it and minimizing the potential for unauthorized access or data breaches.
