PMI Cognitive Project Management in AI CPMAI v7 - Training & Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q67-Q72):

NEW QUESTION # 67
For AI projects the code and systems don't matter as much as the data. In fact, big data is what's powering much of this latest wave of AI. What's most important for your company to consider around data?

- A. Collect enormous amounts of data - the more data the better.
- B. Have team members that have experience, understanding of tools, and the ability to deal with massive volumes of data.
- C. Understanding which algorithms are best for your data needs.
- D. Because of almost-infinite storage and compute power, collect as much data as possible and deal with organizing it later.

Answer: B

Explanation:
CPMAI emphasizes that data is only as valuable as the team's ability to manage, prepare, and harness it effectively. In Phase I: Business Understanding, one of the first tasks under Assess Situation is an "AI Skills Assessment," which ensures that the project team has the right mix of experience and tooling expertise to handle data- intensive AI work. Without skilled data engineers and AI practitioners, even the largest datasets cannot be transformed into business value.
The Workbook's Task Group: Assess Situation in Phase I explicitly calls out "AI Skills Assessment" alongside resource and tooling considerations, highlighting that team capability is a foundational requirement for any data-centric initiative.
Furthermore, in Domain IV: Data for AI of the CPMAI Exam Content Outline, managing data fundamentals and Big Data concepts hinges on having personnel who can "apply Big Data approaches to enhance AI capabilities", which presupposes the presence of experienced data professionals.
Thus, the single most critical factor is ensuring you have team members with the right experience and tool expertise to handle and derive value from massive volumes of data.

NEW QUESTION # 68
Your organization wants to use Generative AI. What are examples of when Generative AI can and should be used? (Select all that apply.)

- A. Explainable Decision-support systems
- B. Virtual Avatars and Characters
- C. Content Generation
- D. Programmatic automated content generation
- E. Data Augmentation for Training
- F. Human Augmentation

Answer: B,C,D,E,F

Explanation:
The CPMAI Glossary's entry for Generative AI highlights its use in creating new content (text, images, or code), enhancing training datasets via data augmentation, powering virtual avatars/characters, and serving as an Augmented Intelligence tool to boost human productivity . It also underpins programmatic content generation across multiple media types. Generative AI is not designed primarily for explainable decision- support interfaces.

NEW QUESTION # 69
An organization is to undertake a multi-pattern AI project. They want to build a robot that is able to roam the halls as well as converse with employees and answer basic questions.
What is the best approach for handling this project?

- A. Run it as a hybrid approach and some phases are run separately while other phases are combined together
- B. Run each pattern in isolation, with separate teams
- C. Run each pattern as its own project, with their own CPMAI phase iterations, data requirements, and project needs
- D. Run it as one project, combining teams, data requirements, and project needs

Answer: D

Explanation:
Under Domain I: Evaluating AI Applications and Patterns, CPMAI instructs practitioners to "Integrate multiple AI patterns for comprehensive applications" when solutions span more than one cognitive pattern.
Treating a multi-pattern system as a single, cohesive project ensures aligned data streams, shared infrastructure, and unified governance.
==========

NEW QUESTION # 70
You have been brought on to manage a recognition project, specifically an image recognition project, for an Autonomous Retail application. You know that you need to make sure you have sufficient data for this project. What's the best way to approach this?

- A. Take all the data your company has as well as purchase additional external data
- B. Take all the existing data you have and apply it to this project
- C. Take inventory of all data your company has and use the relevant data
- D. Take inventory of all data your team has and use the relevant data

Answer: C

Explanation:
In Phase II: Data Understanding, CPMAI's Data Selection tasks require teams to "Decide on the data to be used for analysis" by first listing all available sources and then selecting only those records and attributes that meet quality and relevance criteria . Taking a company-wide data inventory ensures you don't overlook relevant datasets before narrowing down to what truly applies.
==========

NEW QUESTION # 71
Your team is trying to determine which pattern best fits their AI problem. To do this the project team is running through the seven patterns of AI to figure out what pattern best applies to their problem.
Which of the following is the best approach?

- A. When in doubt, go with the Patterns & Anomalies pattern as all AI projects are about pattern matching.
- B. When in doubt, don't apply any pattern of AI.
- C. Determine what you're trying to accomplish and see which pattern(s) of AI fit best.
- D. Apply every pattern to the project.

Answer: C

Explanation:
CPMAI's Task: AI Pattern Identification requires teams to map their specific business objectives to the most appropriate one or more of the Seven Patterns of AI. Starting from "what are we trying to accomplish?" and then selecting the pattern(s) that align with those goals is the prescribed approach.
