NEW QUESTION # 14

The legal department at your organization is working on a time-critical merger and acquisition (M&A) deal. They urgently require access to specific email communications from an employee who is currently on leave. The organization's current retention policy is set to indefinite. You need to retrieve the required emails for the legal department in a manner that ensures data privacy. What should you do?

- A. Instruct the IT department to directly access and forward the relevant emails to the legal department.
- B. Temporarily grant the legal department access to the employee's email account with a restricted scope that is limited to the M&A-related emails.
- C. Use Google Vault to create a matter specific to the M&A deal. Search for relevant emails within the employee's mailbox. Export and share relevant emails with your legal department.
- D. Ask a colleague with delegate access to the employee's mailbox to identify and forward the relevant emails to the legal department.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Using Google Vault to create a matter specific to the M&A deal allows for legal, secure, and privacy-compliant retrieval of emails. You can search for the specific emails related to the merger and acquisition, export them, and share them with the legal department without granting direct access to the employee's mailbox. This approach ensures both data privacy and compliance with organizational policies.

NEW QUESTION # 15

Your organization is implementing a new customer support process that uses Gmail. You need to create a cost-effective solution that allows external customers to send support request emails to the customer support team. The requests must be evenly distributed among the customer support agents. What should you do?

- A. Create a Google Group, enable collaborative inbox settings, set posting permissions to "Anyone on the web", and add the customer support agents as group members.
- B. Set up an inbox for the customer support team. Provide the login credentials to the customer support team.
- C. Create a Google Group, add the support agents to the group, and set the posting permissions to "Public."
- D. Use delegated access for a specific email address that represents the customer support group, and add the customer support team as delegates for that email address.

Answer: A

Explanation:

A Google Group with collaborative inbox settings allows you to evenly distribute support request emails among the team. By setting the posting permissions to "Anyone on the web," external customers can send emails directly to the group, and the emails will be distributed to the support agents as tasks. This is a cost-effective solution that also provides an organized way to manage and track customer support requests.

NEW QUESTION # 16

Your organization is migrating their current on-premises email solution to Google Workspace. You need to ensure that emails sent to your domain are correctly routed to Gmail. What should you do?

- A. Configure SPF, DKIM, and DMARC records in your current email domain's DNS settings.
- B. Change the Mail Exchange (MX) records in your current email domain's DNS settings to point to Google's mail servers.
- C. Create a content compliance rule to filter and route incoming emails.

- D. Set up email forwarding from your on-premises email provider to Gmail.

Answer: B

Explanation:

To ensure that emails sent to your domain are correctly routed to Gmail, you need to update the Mail Exchange (MX) records in your domain's DNS settings to point to Google's mail servers.

This is a critical step in the migration process, as it ensures that all incoming email traffic is directed to Google Workspace after the switch.

NEW QUESTION # 17

Several employees at your company received messages with links to malicious websites. The messages appear to have been sent by your company's human resources department. You need to identify which users received the emails and prevent a recurrence of similar incidents in the future. What should you do?

- A. Search for the sender's email address by using the security investigation tool. Delete the messages. Turn on the safety options for spoofing and authentication protection in Gmail settings.
- B. Search the sender's email address by using Email Log Search. Identify the users that received the messages. Instruct them to mark them as spam in Gmail, delete the messages, and empty the trash.
- C. Search for the sender's email address by using the security investigation tool. Mark the messages as phishing. Add the sender's email address to the Blocked senders list in the Spam, Phishing and Malware setting in Gmail to automatically reject future messages.
- D. Collect a list of users who received the messages. Search the recipients' email addresses in Google Vault. Export and download the malicious emails in PST file format. Add the sender's email address to a quarantine list setting in Gmail to quarantine any future emails from the sender.

Answer: C

The security investigation tool in Google Workspace allows you to identify the impacted users and messages. Adding the sender's email address to the Blocked senders list ensures that future messages from this sender will be automatically blocked, preventing recurrence of similar incidents.
