SAP Certified Application Associate - SAP S/4HANA Project Systems Sample Questions (Q51-Q56):

NEW QUESTION # 51

What functions are available for period end closing in SAP Project System? Note: There are 3 correct answers to this question

- A. Settlement
- B. Milestone trend analysis
- C. Progress analysis
- D. Confirmations
- E. Results analysis

Answer: A,C,E

Explanation:
Settlement, progress analysis, and results analysis are some of the functions available for period end closing in SAP Project System. Settlement is used to allocate the costs and revenues in projects or the results analysis data to one or more receivers, such as cost centers, profitability segments, or assets. Progress analysis is used to determine and compare the planned and actual project progress values, based on the overall planned costs and the work done. Results analysis is used to perform a periodic valuation of the project, based on the costs and revenues expected or incurred in the project. NEW QUESTION # 52

What are some of the advantages of using project simul-ations? Note: There are 3 correct answers to this question

- A. Project simulations can be created without using an operational project as a template
- B. Project simulations allow posting of actual data
- C. Multiple project simulations can be used simultaneously
- D. Project simulations can create purchase requisitions
- E. Project simulations can be used to plan structures and costs

Answer: A,C,E

Explanation:
Project simulations are some of the advantages of using project simulations in SAP Project System. Project simulations are copies of projects that allow you to plan and simulate different scenarios without affecting operational projects. Project simulations can be created without using an operational project as a template, which means you can start from scratch or use a standard structure. Project simulations can be used to plan structures and costs, which means you can create and change WBS elements, networks, activities, and cost elements. Multiple project simulations can be used simultaneously, which means you can compare different alternatives and choose the best one. NEW QUESTION # 53

When you create a service activity in your network, what data can be entered? Note: There are 3 correct answers to this question.

- A. Vendor
- B. Service specification
- C. Service purchase order number
- D. Overall limit (maximum value of all unplanned services)
- E. Material master within service specification

Answer: A,B,D

Explanation:
When you create a service activity in your network, you can enter a service specification, an overall limit, and a vendor. The service specification defines the scope and details of the service to be performed. The overall limit sets a maximum value for all unplanned services that can be entered during service entry. The vendor specifies the external service provider who will perform the service.

NEW QUESTION # 54
You want to use subnetworks during the project. Which of the following statements describes subnetworks?

- A. A subnetwork cannot be defined for a superior subnetwork.
- B. Subnetworks must be scheduled separately from the superior network.
- C. Maintenance orders can be defined as subnetworks.
- D. The scheduling type of a subnetwork is always copied from the superior network.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 55
Which planning method can prevent further rescheduling of activities?

- A. Capacity requirements activation
- B. Partial confirmation of activities
- C. Workforce planning
- D. Capacity levelling

Answer: B

Explanation:
Partial confirmation of activities is a planning method that allows you to confirm a part of an activity's duration or work. This prevents further rescheduling of the activity because the confirmed part is fixed and cannot be changed. The remaining part of the activity can still be rescheduled according to the project progress and resource availability. Reference:
