Salesforce Certified Slack Administrator Sample Questions (Q178-Q183):

NEW QUESTION # 178
Jose works at Globex and is a Slack administrator and Champion.
He receives several Slack direct messages per day from employees looking for more information on a range of topics, such as how to connect apps to their Slack workspace and where to find training materials.
Jose wants to encourage Slack best practices among employees. Which course of action should Jose take in this situation?

- A. Post their question on their behalf in a public #help channel and respond in thread.
- B. Ask the employees to post their own question in a public #help channel, where Jose and his team will respond in thread.
- C. Respond to each employee via direct message with the answer to their question.
- D. Ask the question, and if they are still unable to find the answer, post their own question in a public #help channel, where Jose and his team will respond in thread.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 179
You're in charge of a Slack Enterprise Grid workspace design for your company.
Your teammates provide dozens of suggestions about how the workspaces should be created to provide the best user experience.
Which approach should you choose?
(Select the best answer.)

- A. Create new workspaces instead of multi-workspace channels to reduce irrelevant noise.
- B. Define organization policies to prevent workspaces from differing from corporate standards.
- C. Ensure the workspace design is loosely defined so that it can easily change over time.
- D. Create the minimum number of workspaces to meet your users' needs to limit context switching.

Answer: D

Explanation:
Slack strongly advises:
"Design for the minimum number of workspaces needed to meet business requirements. Fewer workspaces reduce context switching, simplify governance, and improve findability." Option A (loose design) risks chaos. B (strict policy) is important but doesn't directly solve workspace sprawl. D (more workspaces) worsens fragmentation.

NEW QUESTION # 180
As a Workspace Admin, you've been tasked with launching Slack at your company.
You need to provide resources for beginners to learn more about Slack on their own.
What are the two best ways you can help your coworkers access relevant Slack learning materials?
(Choose 2 answers.)

- A. Ask members to complete the Slack Certified Admin program.
- B. Invite members to watch the on-demand "How to launch Slack at your organization" webinar.
- C. Use the /feedback command or email feedback@slack.com to submit a support request to Slack.
- D. Guide members to the Slack resources library on slack.com.
- E. Ask members to review the 'Slack tutorials' section of the Help Center.

Answer: D,E

Explanation:
Slack suggests for onboarding users:
"Provide easy access to self-service resources like the Slack Help Center tutorials and the Slack Resources Library to allow beginners to explore at their own pace." The Slack Certified Admin program (C) is an advanced certification, not for beginners. Watching the webinar (D) helps admins, not general users. Submitting feedback (E) does not provide learning materials.

- A. Send the report in a group DM to the VP and anyone whose information is included in the report.
- B. Send the report in a DM to the VP of HR
- C. Create a private project channel to share the report with the VP and anyone whose information is included.
- D. Post the report in the project s public channel

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 182
Large Inc has a number of apps pre-approved in the App Directory for their teams to use, but their admins want to nominate a group of "App Approval Ambassadors" in addition to their Workspace Owners. These "Ambassadors" will be responsible for reviewing and approving or denying apps in a #plz-app-request channel.
How can the Org Admin ensure that these "Ambassadors" are able to most efficiently approve or deny apps?

- A. Add the "Ambassadors" as "selected members or groups" to manage Approved Apps.
- B. Promote the "Ambassadors" to Workspace Owners in Slack.
- C. Promote the "Ambassadors" to Workspace Admins in Slack.
- D. Have the "Ambassadors" conduct app review in the channel, using emoji to alert the Admins to whitelist the app.

Answer: D
