UiPath Automation Business Analyst Associate Exam (2023.10) Sample Questions (Q31-Q36):

NEW QUESTION # 31

Who is primarily responsible for defining the architecture and tools to be used in the automation project?

- A. Automation Business Analyst
- B. Automation Developer
- C. Solution Architect
- D. Infrastructure Engineer

Answer: C

Explanation:

The Solution Architect is primarily responsible for defining the automation architecture and selecting the appropriate tools, technologies, and approaches to be used throughout the project. They serve as the technical lead and ensure that the automation solution is scalable, maintainable, and aligned with UiPath best practices.

Key responsibilities include:

- * Designing To-Be process flows
- * Selecting reusable components and frameworks
- * Recommending error-handling and logging mechanisms
- * Defining how the automation will integrate with other systems
- * Ensuring compliance with security and IT policies

The Solution Architect also collaborates closely with the Project Manager, Developers, and Business Analyst to ensure the solution meets both technical and business requirements.

NEW QUESTION # 32

Which stage focuses on validating that the automation meets business expectations in a real-world scenario?

- A. Deployment
- B. User Acceptance Testing (UAT)
- C. Solution Design
- D. Kickoff

Answer: B

Explanation:

The User Acceptance Testing (UAT) stage is where the automation is validated to ensure it meets business expectations and performs correctly in a real-world scenario. UAT is conducted by end users or business stakeholders using defined test cases and data that mimic live operations.

The goals of this stage are to:

- * Confirm that the automation performs as designed
- * Verify that business rules and logic are correctly implemented
- * Identify any defects or unexpected behavior
- * Collect user feedback before deployment

The Automation Developer is responsible for fixing any issues found during UAT. A successful UAT ensures the automation is ready for deployment and has the confidence of the business users.

NEW QUESTION # 33

In the Kickoff stage, which of the following must be defined and communicated?

- A. Only UAT test cases
- B. Client team vacation schedules
- C. Post-deployment SLA
- D. Access to Studio and Orchestrator

Answer: D

Explanation:

In the Kickoff stage, access to key platforms like UiPath Studio and Orchestrator must be clearly defined and communicated. Early access planning is essential to avoid development delays and ensure that developers, robots, and testers can interact with the required environments and systems.

In many projects, delays occur because access provisioning is not handled upfront. That's why UiPath emphasizes capturing these details early in the Application Tracker, with input from the Solution Architect and Infrastructure Engineer.

By discussing access needs during Kickoff, teams can involve the Client IT team early, prepare credentials and environments, and prevent blockers during later stages such as development and testing.

NEW QUESTION # 34

What is the final step the business analyst must take to complete the Process Design Document?

- A. Get sign-off from the process owner.
- B. Validate the document with both the business owner and the development team
- C. Create the test case scenarios.
- D. Describe the As Is and the To Be.

Answer: B

Explanation:

The final step in completing the Process Design Document (PDD) is to validate the document with both the business owner and the development team. Although describing the As-Is and To-Be processes, drafting workflows, and collecting inputs are fundamental steps, none of these finalize the document without validation.

Validation ensures that the PDD is accurate, complete, and aligned with both business expectations and technical feasibility. From the business side, the process owner confirms that the documented workflows correctly reflect the real operations, business rules, exceptions, and desired outcomes. From the technical side, the development team verifies that the documented To-Be process is feasible for automation, aligns with UiPath capabilities, and contains the level of detail needed for solution design.

The validation step is crucial because the PDD becomes the foundation for solution design, development, test planning, and success criteria definition. Without this mutual agreement, automation may fail to meet expectations, result in rework, or lead to misaligned business and technical interpretations. Proper validation ensures project success and prevents downstream issues.

NEW QUESTION # 35

What is the purpose of the Kickoff stage in the UiPath Automation Implementation Methodology?

- A. To align with the Client Team on project expectations and prepare for implementation
- B. To start development activities and build automation workflows
- C. To perform user testing and gather feedback
- D. To validate the success of the completed automation

Answer: A

Explanation:

The Kickoff stage in the UiPath Automation Implementation Methodology serves to lay out and align expectations between the Client Team and the Implementation Team before any development begins. It is the first formal step in the automation lifecycle and sets the foundation for successful project execution.

During this stage, stakeholders review the Statement of Work (SOW), clarify roles and responsibilities, define high-level project scope, discuss timeline and milestones, and identify access and infrastructure requirements. Key participants in this stage include the Project Manager, Solution Architect, and Infrastructure Engineer.

This stage is crucial to ensure all teams are on the same page regarding deliverables, communication plans, risk management, and collaboration protocols. A well-conducted Kickoff stage helps mitigate misunderstandings later in the project and ensures that the implementation starts on solid ground.
