NEW QUESTION # 358

A critical security patch is required on a network load balancer in a public cloud. The organization has a major sales conference next week, and the Chief Executive Officer does not want any interruptions during the demonstration of an application behind the load balancer. Which of the following approaches should the cloud security engineer take?

- A. Ask the upper management team to approve an emergency patch window.
- B. Apply the security patch after the event.
- C. Ask the management team to delay the conference.
- D. Apply the security patch immediately before the conference.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Given the critical nature of the patch and the upcoming major sales conference, the cloud security engineer should seek approval for an emergency patch window. This approach balances the need for security with the business requirement of no interruptions during the conference.

The strategy of managing critical updates in alignment with business operations is part of the governance and risk management topics in the CompTIA Cloud+ certification material.

NEW QUESTION # 359

A manager wants information about which users signed in to a certain VM during the past month. Which of the following can the cloud administrator use to obtain this information?

- A. Collection
- B. Retention
- C. Aggregation
- D. Alerting

Answer: A

Explanation:

To obtain information about which users signed in to a certain VM during the past month, a cloud administrator can use log collection. Log collection involves gathering and storing logs from various sources, including VMs, to provide historical data on system access and activity, which can then be analyzed to identify user login instances.

Reference: The CompTIA Cloud+ certification emphasizes the importance of monitoring and visibility in cloud environments, which includes log collection and analysis as key components of operational management and security monitoring.

NEW QUESTION # 360

- A. Batch processing
- B. Containerization
- C. Application modernization
- D. Workload orchestration

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 361

An organization's security policy states that software applications should not exchange sensitive data in cleartext. The security analyst is concerned about a software application that uses Base64 to encode credit card data. Which of the following would be the best algorithm to replace Base64?

- A. SHA-3
- B. 3DES
- C. RC4
- D. AES

Answer: D

Explanation:

AES (Advanced Encryption Standard) is the best algorithm to replace Base64 for secure data exchange. Base64 is an encoding method that is not secure by itself, as it's easily reversible.

AES, on the other hand, is a widely used encryption standard that ensures data is protected and is not readable without the correct encryption key.

NEW QUESTION # 362

A security engineer recently discovered a vulnerability in the operating system of the company VMs. The operations team reviews the issue and decides all VMs need to be updated from version 3.4.0 to 3.5.0. Which of the following best describes the type of update that will be applied?

- A. Patch
- B. Consistent
- C. Minor
- D. Ephemeral

Answer: C

Explanation:

Updating from version 3.4.0 to 3.5.0 increments the middle number in semantic versioning, which indicates a minor update. Minor updates typically add functionality or enhancements while maintaining compatibility, unlike patches (last digit) or major updates (first digit).
