USAII Certified Artificial Intelligence Consultant Sample Questions (Q44-Q49):

NEW QUESTION # 44

Choose the CORRECT example of Supervised Learning.

- A. None of the above
- B. House price prediction
- C. All of the above
- D. ChatGPT
- E. Driverless car

Answer: B

Explanation:

The correct answer is B. House price prediction . Supervised learning is a machine learning approach where a model is trained using labeled data. In a house price prediction problem, the training data usually contains property features such as size, location, number of rooms, age of the house, and past selling prices. The known selling price acts as the label or target value. The model learns the relationship between the input features and the price, then predicts prices for new houses.

A driverless car is not the best single example because autonomous driving uses a combination of AI techniques, including supervised learning, reinforcement learning, computer vision, sensor fusion, planning, and control systems. ChatGPT is a generative AI language model and is not typically used as the basic example of supervised learning in this context. Since house price prediction directly represents supervised learning with labeled input-output data, the correct answer is B .

NEW QUESTION # 45

What is a prompt?

- A. For ChatGPT and OpenAI models, prompts mainly refer to a piece of text in natural language.
- B. a and b only
- C. Prompt refers to the input the user provides to the generative models.
- D. Prompts are the only way users can control the output generated by those models.
- E. a, b and c only

Answer: B

Explanation:

The correct answer is D. a and b only because a prompt is the input provided by a user to a generative AI model. In natural language systems such as ChatGPT and other language models, the prompt is usually written as text in natural language. It may be a question, instruction, command, description, context, example, or task requirement that guides the model toward producing a response.

Statement A is correct because prompts are the user-provided input that generative models use to produce outputs. Statement B is also correct because, for ChatGPT and similar models, prompts commonly appear as natural language text. Statement C is not fully correct because prompts are an important way to guide model output, but they are not the only possible control mechanism. Outputs can also be influenced by system instructions, model settings, retrieval context, fine-tuning, guardrails, and application design. Therefore, the best answer is D. a and b only .

NEW QUESTION # 46

Which of the following is a CORRECT NLP task?

- A. Question Answering QA
- B. Part-of-Speech PoS tagging
- C. a and b only
- D. Tokenization
- E. a, b and c only

Answer: E

Explanation:

The correct answer is E. a, b and c only because tokenization, Part-of-Speech tagging, and Question Answering are all valid natural language processing tasks. NLP focuses on enabling machines to process, analyze, understand, and generate human language for business and technical applications.

Tokenization is a basic NLP task where text is divided into smaller units such as words, subwords, or tokens.

This step helps models process language in a structured way. Part-of-Speech tagging is also an NLP task because it identifies the grammatical role of words, such as nouns, verbs, adjectives, and adverbs. This helps systems understand sentence structure and meaning. Question Answering is another important NLP task where a system interprets a user's question and generates or retrieves the most relevant answer from data, documents, or knowledge sources.

Since all three options represent correct NLP tasks, the best answer is E. a, b and c only .

NEW QUESTION # 47

Choose the CORRECT benefit of solution architecture.

- A. None of the above
- B. As projects grow in size and teams become geographically distributed, having a well-defined solution architecture ensures long-term sustainability and effective collaboration.
- C. All of the above
- D. It provides a solid foundation for the development of enterprise software solutions.
- E. Solution architecture ensures that the developed solution meets the necessary standards and expectations.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Solution architecture provides the structured blueprint needed to move from a business or technical concept to a working implementation. It defines how different systems, applications, data flows, technologies, security requirements, and business needs will fit together. Therefore, it gives teams a solid foundation for developing enterprise software solutions.

A well-defined solution architecture is also valuable when projects become large, complex, or distributed across multiple teams and locations. It creates a common understanding of design decisions, integration points, responsibilities, and technical standards, which supports collaboration and long-term sustainability. In addition, solution architecture helps ensure that the final solution meets business expectations, technical requirements, quality standards, scalability needs, security controls, and operational goals.

Since options A, B, and C all describe valid benefits of solution architecture, the most complete and correct answer is E. All of the above .

NEW QUESTION # 48

Which of the following is the CORRECT basic brain components?

- A. Neocortex
- B. Brainstem
- C. All of the above
- D. Midbrain
- E. Limbic

Answer: C

Explanation:

The correct answer is E. All of the above because the listed terms are associated with major functional or structural areas of the human brain often discussed when explaining cognition, intelligence, decision-making, emotions, perception, and behavior. The neocortex is linked with higher-order thinking, reasoning, language, planning, perception, and conscious decision-making. The limbic system is strongly associated with emotion, memory, motivation, and behavioral responses. The midbrain is involved in sensory processing, movement control, visual and auditory responses, and alertness. The brainstem supports essential automatic functions such as breathing, heart rate, sleep-wake regulation, and basic survival processes.

In artificial intelligence learning, these brain components are often introduced to help explain how human intelligence works and how AI attempts to model certain cognitive functions. Since neocortex, limbic, midbrain, and brainstem are all valid basic brain-related components, the best answer is E. All of the above .
