Which service meets your needs?

- A. Amazon DynamoDB
- B. Amazon S3
- C. Amazon ElastiCache

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 580

A social media company wants to allow its users to upload images in an application that is hosted in the AWS Cloud. The company needs a solution that automatically resizes the images so that the images can be displayed on multiple device types. The application experiences unpredictable traffic patterns throughout the day The company is seeking a highly available solution that maximizes scalability.

What should a solutions architect do to meet these requirements?

- A. Create a dynamic website hosted on an automatically scaling Amazon Elastic Container Service (Amazon ECS) cluster that creates a resize job in Amazon Simple Queue Service (Amazon SQS) Set up an image-resizing program that runs on an Amazon EC2 instance to process the resize jobs.
- B. Create a static website hosted in Amazon S3 that invokes AWS Lambda functions to resize the images and store the images in an Amazon S3 bucket
- C. Create a static website hosted in Amazon CloudFront that invokes AWS Step Functions to resize the images and store the images in an Amazon RDS database
- D. Create a dynamic website hosted on a web server that runs on an Amazon EC2 instance Configure a process that runs on the EC2 instance to resize the images and store the images in an Amazon S3 bucket.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 581

A company has an application thai runs on several Amazon EC2 instances Each EC2 instance has multiple Amazon Elastic Block Store (Amazon EBS) data volumes attached to it The application's EC2 instance configuration and data need to be backed up nightly The application also needs to be recoverable in a different AWS Region Which solution will meet these requirements in the MOST operationally efficient way?

- A. Write an AWS Lambda function that schedules nightly snapshots of the application's EBS volumes and copies the snapshots to a different Availability Zone
- B. Create a backup plan by using AWS Backup to perform nightly backups Copy the backups to another Region Add the application's EBS volumes as resources
- C. Create a backup plan by using AWS Backup to perform nightly backups. Copy the backups to another Region Add the application's EC2 instances as resources
- D. Write an AWS Lambda function that schedules nightly snapshots of the application's EBS volumes and copies the snapshots to a different Region

Answer: C

Explanation:
The most operationally efficient solution to meet these requirements would be to create a backup plan by using AWS Backup to perform nightly backups and copying the backups to another Region. Adding the application's EBS volumes as resources will ensure that the application's EC2 instance configuration and data are backed up, and copying the backups to another Region will ensure that the application is recoverable in a different AWS Region.

- A. Use Amazon EC2 Auto Scaling with simple scaling policies to scale when ECS metric breaches trigger an Amazon CloudWatch alarm
- B. Use AWS Application Auto Scaling with target tracking policies to scale when ECS metric breaches trigger an Amazon CloudWatch alarm
- C. Use Amazon EC2 Auto Scaling to scale at certain periods based on previous traffic patterns
