PMI Agile Certified Practitioner Sample Questions (Q392-Q397):

NEW QUESTION # 392

Which three criteria should be looked at when setting iteration length?

- A. Time needed to complete a user story, time needed to build and test the stories, and product team acceptance of the stories
- B. Features that categorize the product, the time needed to complete the features, and the cost to deliver the features to market
- C. Delivering chunks of user-valued functionality, time needed to build and test the stories, and product team acceptance of the stories
- D. Timeframe in which the stories must be released, the cost to deliver the features to market, and product team acceptance of the stories

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 393

A product that recently went to market is receiving a great deal of attention from upper management who expresses interest by directly emailing and calling the developer team. The team expresses frustration during a standup. What should the Scrum Master do?

- A. Personally respond to upper management's phone calls and emails.
- B. Ask the product owner how upper management's comments can be redirected.
- C. Direct the developer team to ignore the phone calls and emails.
- D. Ask the product owner to enter the requests into the product backlog as high priority.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 394

Acronym describing the attributes of a product backlog:

- A. ITERA
- B. DESPO
- C. INVEST
- D. DEEP

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 395

What information should a project team include in an extended stakeholder report to ensure that all current and future stakeholders are aware of the frequent updates?

- A. A list of open technical issues
- B. A list of tools used for implementation
- C. Up-to-date project radiators
- D. Team capacity and competence profiles

Answer: C

Explanation:

The correct answer is D - Up-to-date project radiators.

Information radiators provide at-a-glance visibility into project status, progress, blockers, and other key metrics. Sharing or including these visual tools in extended stakeholder communication ensures transparency and up-to-date awareness, which aligns with agile values.

PMI Agile Practice Guide:

"Information radiators provide immediate and transparent access to project health and status. They reduce the need for formal reporting and keep stakeholders aligned in real time." (PMI Agile Practice Guide, Section 5.6 - Information Radiators) Mike Griffiths:

"Using radiators to keep stakeholders informed improves trust, accelerates decision-making, and supports ongoing engagement." (PMI-ACP Exam Prep, Chapter 3 - Value-Driven Delivery) Incorrect options:

- * A and B are not relevant for stakeholder reporting.
- * C is too narrow and lacks the holistic view offered by radiators.

NEW QUESTION # 396

Following a successful product release, senior management asks an agile team how to improve the value of the product for the next release.

What should the team do?

- A. Inform senior management that since the product was successfully released, the project is considered delivered and should be closed
- B. Conduct frequent demos and obtain feedback from users throughout the development of the next release
- C. Implement a better definition of done to ensure that continuous integration processes are managed effectively
- D. Request additional budget to implement a Scrum of Scrums approach to scale the teams and add capacity

Answer: B

Explanation:

The correct answer is A - Conduct frequent demos and obtain feedback from users throughout the development of the next release. Agile is feedback-driven. Regular demonstrations (e.g., sprint reviews) help gather customer input to continuously enhance the product and optimize value.

From the PMI Agile Practice Guide:

"Frequent demonstrations and validation with stakeholders ensure that teams deliver value continuously and adapt the product based on real-time feedback." (PMI Agile Practice Guide, Section 5.2 - Feedback and Product Review) Mike Griffiths notes:

"Customer feedback loops are vital to agile. Demos provide a mechanism for validating delivered functionality, identifying improvement opportunities, and maximizing product value." (Mike Griffiths, PMI-ACP Exam Prep, Chapter 3 - Value-Driven Delivery) Incorrect options:

- * B contradicts continuous delivery and customer collaboration.
- * C may help with scale, but doesn't directly address value improvement.
- * D is more about process quality than business value.
