IIBA Agile Analysis Certification Sample Questions (Q120-Q125):

NEW QUESTION # 120

The team is discussing one of the six key terms used to discuss both business analysis and its relationship with common terminology. Specifically, they are discussing the circumstances that influence, are influenced by, and provide understanding of the change. This team is discussing:

- A. Context
- B. Value
- C. Solution
- D. Needs

Answer: A

Explanation:

In the Business Analysis Core Concept Model (BACCM), Context refers to the circumstances that surround and influence a change. Context includes everything from internal organizational culture and technology to external market conditions, government regulations, and competitor actions. Understanding context is critical in agile analysis because it provides the necessary perspective to determine if a solution is appropriate and feasible. Change does not happen in a vacuum; the success of an initiative often depends on how well it aligns with its environment. By analyzing context across all horizons, practitioners can identify risks, constraints, and opportunities that might not be visible when looking strictly at requirements. This holistic view ensures that the recommended solutions are robust and sustainable within the specific ecosystem of the enterprise.

NEW QUESTION # 121

The details of how we might build a solution to a backlog item are:

- A. Fully detailed in acceptance criteria with all perspectives addressed
- B. Fully detailed in user stories with all perspectives addressed
- C. Communicated by a Tech Lead addressing three perspectives: business, development, and testing
- D. Discussed as needed, including three perspectives: business, development, and testing

Answer: D

Explanation:

————— In agile delivery, the "how" of building a solution is a collaborative effort rather than a top-down directive. Details are discussed as needed, embodying the principle of avoiding waste by not over-analyzing items that are not yet ready for construction. This discussion must incorporate three perspectives:

Business (what value are we delivering?), Development (how can we technically achieve this?), and Testing (how do we verify it works?). This "Three Amigos" approach ensures that potential implementation challenges are identified early and that the technical design remains aligned with business goals. By keeping these discussions just-in-time and collaborative, the team ensures that solution details are informed by the most current feedback and that the resulting technical approach is robust, testable, and valuable.

NEW QUESTION # 122

While discussing the Business Analysis Approach, decisions are made about which methodology or approach to use for the initiative being considered. These discussions are happening at the:

- A. Feedback horizon
- B. Strategy horizon
- C. Delivery horizon
- D. Initiative horizon

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 123

Strategic decision makers are considering large amounts of complex information covering many different areas. To reduce the information to a manageable level of complexity, they decide to use the following:

- A. Models
- B. Filtering
- C. MoSCoW approach
- D. Reduction

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 124

Focusing on the business need and desired outcomes during the Initiative Horizon allows the team to:

- A. Consider as many potential solutions as possible
- B. Consider resource needs for future work
- C. Align strategies with delivery needs

- D. Focus on one potential solution

Answer: A

Explanation:

At the Initiative Horizon, the focus is on clarifying the problem or opportunity and exploring the most effective ways to address it. By concentrating on the business need and desired outcomes rather than a fixed solution, the team is empowered to consider as many potential solutions as possible. This exploratory approach allows for creative problem-solving and ensures that the team does not settle on a sub-optimal path prematurely. Analyzing various solution options—ranging from process changes to different technical architectures—helps the team identify the path that provides the maximum value with the minimum amount of output (waste). This flexibility is a core component of agile analysis, ensuring that the selected initiative is the most viable and impactful option available to satisfy the strategic goal.
