HPE Network Switching Associate Exam Sample Questions (Q101-Q106):

NEW QUESTION # 101

A Solutions Architect is troubleshooting a critical performance issue where applications are timing out when communicating between the User segment (VLAN 100, 10.1.100.0/24) and the Application server segment (VLAN 200, 10.1.200.0/24). The architect suspects an Access Control List (ACL) on the core switch is unintentionally blocking the return traffic. The architect has applied an ACL named 'USER-ACCESS-IN' to the VLAN 100 interface in the inbound direction.

The intent is to allow users to initiate connections to the server VLAN but block other traffic. After users report issues, the architect examines the ACL details.

show ip access-list USER-ACCESS-IN ip access-list extended USER-ACCESS-IN 10 permit tcp 10.1.100.0/24 10.1.200.0/24

20 deny ip any any

Based on this ACL and standard TCP communication, what is the most likely cause of the application timeouts?

- A. The ACL is a standard ACL and cannot filter TCP traffic.
- B. The `deny ip any any` rule is incorrect and should be `deny tcp any any`.
- C. The ACL is applied in the wrong direction; it should be applied outbound.
- D. The ACL is missing a rule to permit the return traffic (established connections) from the server VLAN back to the user VLAN.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 102

A user is unable to access a web server at 10.10.20.5 from their workstation (10.10.10.100). A Junior Network Engineer checks the routing table on the user's local switch. What is the primary function of a routing table in this troubleshooting scenario?

- A. To provide a list of all active physical interfaces on the switch.
- B. To map VLAN IDs to specific switch ports.
- C. To determine the next-hop path for forwarding packets to a destination network.
- D. To store the MAC addresses of all connected devices.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 103

What are valid responses from a RADIUS server? Choose two.

- A. REJECT
- B. DENY
- C. ACCEPT
- D. BLOCK
- E. PERMIT
- F. ALLOW

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

The correct answers are A and F. Valid RADIUS authentication responses include Access-Accept and Access- Reject. HPE Aruba Networking documentation explains that a RADIUS server responds to an authentication request with an Access-Accept response when authentication succeeds, or an Access-Reject response when the user is not authorized. In the answer choices, these are represented as ACCEPT and REJECT. The other options are not valid RADIUS response names in this context. "ALLOW" and "PERMIT" may describe an access-control result in plain language, but they are not the RADIUS authentication response messages used by the protocol. "DENY" and "BLOCK" are also not the listed RADIUS response types in HPE Aruba Networking documentation. In an HPE Aruba Networking environment, RADIUS is commonly used for authentication, authorization, and accounting workflows, including administrative login and network access authentication. The important exam distinction is that the RADIUS server returns Access-Accept for successful authentication and Access-Reject for failed or unauthorized authentication.

NEW QUESTION # 104

What is a characteristic of Static Link Aggregation Group?

- A. It dynamically negotiates and manages the formation of LAGs.
- B. It utilizes protocols like LACP for automatic link aggregation.
- C. The aggregation of links is manually configured by network administrators.
- D. Static LAGs provide automatic failover and load-balancing capabilities.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 105

A Solutions Architect is presenting the HPE Aruba Networking switching portfolio to a customer. The customer needs to understand the primary software differentiator of the AOS-CX operating system. Which feature is a core component and key differentiator of the AOS-CX software architecture?

- A. Its exclusive support for the EIGRP routing protocol.
- B. A proprietary command-line interface that is unique to each switch model.
- C. A monolithic kernel that combines all processes into a single software image.
- D. A microservices-based, database-driven architecture.

Answer: D
