Questions (Q11-Q16):

NEW QUESTION # 11

NETCONF is based on the Extensible Markup Language (XML).

- A. False
- B. True

Answer: B

Explanation:

NETCONF (Network Configuration Protocol) is the primary management protocol used in the Xinghe Intelligent Campus solution for communication between iMaster NCE-Campus and network devices. It uses a multi-layer structure where the Content Layer (data) and Operations Layer are encoded in XML .

This allows for a structured, hierarchical representation of configuration data and state information, making it more efficient and programmable than traditional CLI or SNMP.

NEW QUESTION # 12

How many terminal identification methods are supported by Huawei's campus network solution?

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2
- D. 3

Answer: D

Explanation:

Huawei's terminal identification system (used in iMaster NCE-Campus for fingerprinting IoT devices) officially utilizes 7 distinct methods to ensure high accuracy:

- * MAC OUI: Identification by the vendor prefix of the MAC address.
- * HTTP User-Agent: Extracting device info from browser headers.
- * DHCP Option: Identifying devices based on DHCP request parameters (e.g., Option 55/60).
- * LLDP: Using Link Layer Discovery Protocol info.
- * mDNS: Identifying Apple and other smart devices via multicast DNS.
- * SNMP Query: Actively reading MIBs from terminals.
- * Nmap/Proactive Scanning: Actively probing open ports and OS fingerprints.

NEW QUESTION # 13

The point license mode is used on the MSP-owned platform. In this mode, licenses are automatically calculated based on the device model and quantity during configuration. This mode also simplifies quotation and does not require a subscription period. You can purchase licenses as required, improving the capital turnover rate 12-fold.

- A. False
- B. True

Answer: B

Explanation:

For MSPs (Managed Service Providers) , Huawei offers a Point-based License model. Instead of buying specific licenses for every single feature or device model, the MSP buys a pool of "Points." Different devices "consume" a certain number of points per day or month. This allows the MSP to be extremely flexible with their customers, scaling up or down without long-term fixed subscriptions for individual boxes, which significantly optimizes their financial model (CAPEX/OPEX).

NEW QUESTION # 14

The VLANIF interface on a Layer 2 network device is usually used as which of the following IP address?

- A. Service IP address
- B. Interconnection IP address
- C. Management IP address
- D. Wired IP address

Answer: C

Explanation:

In a typical campus hierarchy, a Layer 2 switch does not perform routing for user traffic. Therefore, its VLANIF interface is not used as a default gateway (Service IP). Instead, it is configured with a Management IP address to allow administrators or the iMaster NCE-Campus controller to access the device via SSH, SNMP, or NETCONF for configuration and O & M purposes.

NEW QUESTION # 15

What is the maximum number of APs that can be managed by the built-in WAC of the AR5710-S8T1XWE?

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2
- D. 3

Answer: B

Explanation:

The NetEngine AR5710-S8T1XWE is a high-performance converged gateway designed for small and medium branches. According to the technical specifications for the AR5710-S series, the built-in WAC (Wireless Access Controller) capability allows for the management of up to 64 APs (with an initial free license for 32 APs). This hyper-converged design allows a single device to handle routing, switching, security, and wireless management, which is a key recommendation for "Simplified Branch" scenarios in the V2.0 guide.
